STONE KEEPS FLINN'S SIDE IN SUSPENSE

Those Seeking Removal of Recorder Brown Are Losing Hope

BELIEF GROWS THAT NO CHANGE IS COMING

Stalwart Leader Points Out Political Unwisdom of Gratifying Flinn.

MIGHT GIVE STATE TO THE DEMOCRACY

All Regular Republican Leaders Agree With These Views—Governor Says There Will Be No Secrecy When Ready to Act.

BY CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., November 14.—Gov. Stone is still here. The Pittsburgh situation is therefore unchanged, for the governor is the situation. He will not discuss the matter. When it is mentioned in his presence he blandly puts the question by. The uncertainty about his attitude is keenly felt by the Flinn people. They won't talk, but it is evident that they are losing hope. The impression is growing that no change will take place in the Pittsburgh recordership until the people see fit to make one at the polls.

Friends of the governor believe that Allegheny county politics are now pivotal in their bearing upon Republican success for the future, and especially next year, when a legislature, a United States senator and a governor are to be elected. In this connection the opinion of a stalwart Republican state leader is of interest. He is deeply interested in the situation. This is what he said to the correspondent of The Gazette:

"If Gov. Stone removes Recorder Brown the effect will be more far-reaching than anyone—and I do not except the governor—at this time imagines. Briefly summarized, it may result in a loss to the Republicans of the next legislature, the defeat of Senator Penrose, who will be a candidate for re-election at the hands of the next assembly, and the defeat of the Republican candidate for governor. This may sound like an exaggerated statement, but it is not.

What Election Returns Reveal.

"An analysis of the returns of the recent election is convincing of the fact that the coming legislative fight may be one of the closest and hardest contests in the history of the state. With the stalwarts united, standing shoulder to shoulder, it will be the fight of our lives. Loss of the legislature carries down our candidates for United States senator and governor. It will mean the election, as Penrose's successor, of John Wanamaker or some other insurgent and a Democratic governor.

"The fight for supremacy between the regular Republicans of Allegheny county and the personal organization controlled by Senator Flinn is not a local matter. It is one of state-wide interest. Loyal Republicans everywhere look upon Flinn as the chief of the insurgent cause; as one of those who are most responsible for the factional turmoil of the past six years. They do not think that, because he may have voted the straight ticket November 5, he is absolved from the consequences of his course since the 'hog combine' fight of 1895. Having finally forced Flinn to capitulate, they believe recognition and patronage should now go to those Allegheny county stalwarts who have been faithful to the party organization.

The Leaders Are Agreed.

"This, too, is the opinion of the Republican state leaders. Senators Quay and Penrose hold this view, and it is alike shared by the members of the governor's cabinet, Attorney General Elkin, Insurance Commissioner Durham and Secretary of the Commonwealth Griest. State Treasurer Barnett and the incoming treasurer, Frank Harris, join in this view. They have no use for Flinn. They do not want Recorder Brown removed. If the governor does remove him he will stand alone in his party, and the penalty of his action will fall most heavily upon his most loyal friends. Senator Penrose and Attorney General Elkin. Not only will the state leaders be obliged to repudiate the recognition of Flinn, but their action will be followed by the rank and file of the regulars.

"Divisions harmful to the state organization and harmful to the party must result. While it is perhaps true that the events of next year may not directly affect any ambition personally cherished by the governor, it is equally true that they will determine the political future of several of his closest friends. The governor cannot possibly be injured by permitting the stalwart Republicans of his home county to build up and maintain a dominant organization. Such a condition will be as helpful to him as it will to any other who intends to ask favors at the hands of his party. If he denies this right to his fellow Republicans at home the responsibility will lie with himself alone. I am extremely hopeful that the governor will, in time, accept the advice given him by Senator Quay and other party leaders."

Governor Not Ready to Talk.

When seen by your correspondent tonight, Gov. Stone made short work of the Pittsburgh problem.

"There will be no secrecy about it," he said. "When I get ready to talk all will know it."

UNITED STATES SENATOR LOUIS E. M'COMAS.

The Man Who Charges Gorman with Stealing the Maryland Legislature.

FIGHT PROMISED TO KEEP GORMAN OUT OF SENATE

Claim Is Made That Nearly 25,000 Republican Votes Were Thrown Out.

A SENSATIONAL TRIAL

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 14.—Will the Republican leaders keep Gorman out of the senate?

United States Senator Louis E. McComas, who succeeded Gorman in the senate, has openly charged the latter with stealing the Maryland legislature. Republican politicians do not hesitate to say that if it is possible, by means of the courts, to keep Gorman out of the senate it will be done. It is intended to expose Gorman's alleged connection with election frauds in which it is claimed over 25,000 ballots were thrown out in the various counties as defective. It is claimed that these ballots were mainly Republican, and that had they been counted Gorman would never have been likely to go back to the senate. However, with a Democratic legislature elected, Gorman's nomination for Wellington's toga is expected. There is no doubt that Gorman will be named as senator.

If the charges are proved it is said the case will be more sensational than the celebrated Clark-Daly Montana senatorial episode, and a bitter contest is expected. The fact that President Roosevelt desires senatorial representation from his party, in this state, and that the weight of the highest Republican leaders will be thrown against Gorman, promises to make the contest, if it ever occurs, one of the most sensational in political history. Contests will first be made in every district, and money, it is said will be very plentiful. The courts will be appealed to as a means of upsetting the Democratic victory, but if this proves a failure, then the United States senate will be appealed to.

CONVICTS STILL CAUSING TROUBLE

Two Escaped Prisoners Terrorize a Porter On a Santa Fe Train.

FLORENCE, KAS., Nov. 14.—Two of the convicts who escaped last week from the Fort Leavenworth penitentiary boarded a west-bound Santa Fe passenger train at Clements during the night and forced the porter, who tried to put them off the blind baggage, to extinguish his lantern and remain on the platform with them. The pair finally jumped off the train at Florence at 4:30 in the morning and took refuge in the heavy timber near there. A posse of Leavenworth guards came in on the fast mail two hours later and started in pursuit.

No captures have been effected since the three men were taken at Cottonwood Falls Tuesday night, and nine convicts are still at large.

BIG DOCK AT FAIRPORT.

Rumor Says That One Million Dollars Will Be Spent There in the Near Future.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 14.—Private parties are to build a new dock at Fairport, Ohio, to be ready at the opening of navigation next year. One million dollars will be spent in fitting out this new property, which will be one of the most complete on the great lakes.

The unloading machinery will be modern. Railroad facilities, it is said, will be furnished by the completion to the lake of the Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling railroad.

OLD FRIENDS KNEW RATHBUN AT FIRST SIGHT

Pleaded Not Guilty to Charge of Murdering Charles Goodman.

PRISONER TALKING LESS

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., Nov. 14.—Newell C. Rathbun, suspected of killing Charles Goodman in a bottle of poison, was today positively identified by an officer and an acquaintance of the prisoner from Little Rock, Ark., where he lived for a time. Later Rathbun was arraigned before Mayor Rader on a charge of murder. Rathbun pleaded not guilty and Mayor Rader held him over to the circuit court without bond.

Rathbun signed the following paper for the purpose of proving his identity in Little Rock:

To whom it may concern:

I am in custody in Jeffersonville, Ind., awaiting trial. I will send this by Al Chichester and E. J. Gloeckner.

N. C. RATHBUN.

The prisoner is becoming less talkative and evidently realizes that he has already talked too much, but he is reported to have said to a fellow prisoner at the jail:

"The officers haven't a thing on which to convict. A man's intention does not mean he can be convicted."

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Nov. 14.—The corpse sent here as that of Newell C. Rathbun continues to repose in a vault at Oakland cemetery, subject to the orders of Coroner C. M. Young. The latter states that he will surrender the body only upon written testimony that the prisoner at Jeffersonville, Ind., is Newell C. Rathbun.

Coroner Young said after the news came that Deputy Sheriff Chichester and Emil Gloeckler had identified the prisoner at Jeffersonville, Ind., as N. C. Rathbun: "If Chichester and Gloeckler come before the jury here and make affidavit that the man in prison at Jeffersonville is Newell C. Rathbun, I will surrender the body."

WINTRY STORMS ON BOTH HEMISPHERES

Fifty Vessels Wrecked On the British Coast, With Loss of 180 Lives.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—It is still impossible to estimate with exactitude the total loss of life and property resulting from the protracted gale, and probably the full extent of the damage will never be known. Tons of wreckage of unidentified vessels are still being thrown up.

Altogether it is known that some 50 vessels have been wrecked along the British coasts. Thirty-four of these have been absolute wrecks, involving, it is believed, a loss of more than 180 drowned. The Yarmouth lifeboat disaster alone leaves 44 fatherless children.

The loss of a lifeboat and eleven of its crew near Yarmouth heads the list of yesterday's wrecks. The lifeboat was on its way to the rescue of a distressed vessel when it was struck by a great wave and capsized. The crew were imprisoned and only three of them succeeded in making their escape.

The Norwegian bark Erratic, of Christiansand, has been wrecked in the vicinity of Saltburn and eight members of her crew have been drowned. From wreckage seen in Belfast lough yesterday, it is supposed that the collier White Abbey has been lost and her crew of nine drowned.

A winter snap has succeeded the gale, which subsided yesterday, while a severe blizzard, which is raging over Scandinavia, is expected to strike the shores of Great Britain today. Yesterday there was a heavy snowstorm in Scotland and a fall of snow generally throughout the United Kingdom, especially in the hilly districts, where several shepherds lost their lives.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Heavy weather is raging on Lake Ontario and the government has ordered storm signals to be kept constantly flying. The river at Charlotte is crowded with many vessels of all kinds which have been weather-bound for several days. The wind is blowing fiercely from the northwest and has caused the highest seas ever known.

RICH CLUBMAN MURDERED

Found Unconscious and Dying on the Veranda of a Neighbor's House—Pockets Were Rifled.

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—In one of Richmond's most fashionable streets, John W. Scott, a very wealthy clubman, was beaten into insensibility and robbed about 1 o'clock this morning. His death ensued five hours later. He was unable to tell who was responsible for his death. The crime was committed after he had left the Commonwealth club and was well toward his home, four blocks away. He was found unconscious and dying on the veranda of Maj. E. T. D. Meyers, with his skull fractured. His watch and purse were gone.

MANY KILLED AND MANGLED IN EXPLOSION

At Least Ten Men Perish in a Virginia Coal Mine Disaster.

TWENTY-FIVE OTHERS SEVERELY BURNED

Three Members of a Rescue Party Sacrifice Their Lives.

THE SHAFT IS STILL A RAGING FURNACE

Five Bodies Have Been Recovered and the Number Remaining in the Pit Is Unknown—At Least Four Men Are Missing.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

POCAHONTAS, VA., Nov. 14.—By a double explosion in the Baby mine here at 2 o'clock this morning at least 10 men lost their lives, three of whom were members of a rescuing party, and 25 others were severely burned. The mine is still on fire and a rescue party is laboring to recover the bodies of several miners who are thought to be in the burning shaft.

The Dead.

John Barnhardt.
M. B. Koontz.
William Montgomery.
Lewis Woolwine.
Steven Urrico.
John Polisk.

At least four men are unaccounted for, and there is little doubt that they have perished in the mine. Among the 25 men rescued several deaths are expected to occur, as their burns are of a serious nature. At the hour of the explosion there were but about 20 men at work. It is supposed that the gas was ignited by a defective electric wire, though the exact cause of the explosion has not been ascertained.

The noise of the first explosion was an alarm to the entire community and in a very brief period there was a surging mass of men, women and children about the entrance of the horizontal shaft from which smoke was rolling in great volumes. An alarm was sent in and the fire company from this town responded promptly. While the fire fighters were at work a rescue party was formed and the men rushed inside the mine to ascertain the extent of the disaster, when a second explosion occurred and many of the rescue party were badly injured.

Three Rescuers Killed.

Woolwine, Montgomery and Koontz were killed while endeavoring to recover a dead body. Koontz was the bookkeeper of the Pocahontas Coal Company, which owns the mine. He had made the first call for volunteers to rescue the perishing miners.

The gallant rescuers rushed through the dense smoke and were making their way to the recess which entombed the victims. It seemed barely a minute after they were lost to view before the second explosion, louder and more terrific than the first, broke the stillness. In a second an enormous volume of smoke and flame pushed itself out of the mine opening and then came the remnant of the little band of brave men who had sought to save their friends. The party had been able to make its way possibly 75 yards into the mine, and had just stumbled over a dead body when they were driven back by the flames.

Five Bodies Recovered.

Those who succeeded in getting out were burned and stunned and are now in the charge of the physicians called from the surrounding country, including Bluefield.

The Baby mine when in full operation employs 600 men, and this entire number constitutes the force now at work in an attempt to rescue the victims.

Five bodies had been recovered, and it is uncertain how many more are dead though it is now known that there are several still in the mines, unless they succeed in making their escape through the Tug river entrance. The fan has now been stopped, and as soon as possible to do so the mine will be re-entered with hope of extinguishing the fire.

At this time it is impossible to secure the names of those injured or to estimate the amount of damage to the mine. In 1884 Pocohontas experienced a like occurrence in which over 100 lives were lost.

LEGAL HEAVYWEIGHTS MEET.

Two Ex-Governors Submit Arguments in Molineux Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Interest in the Molineux case in the court of general sessions was intensified by the fact that two former governors appeared on opposite sides in the argument. The motion before the court was to quash the indictment charging Roland B. Molineux with the murder by mailed poison, of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams. David B. Hill represented the state and Frank S. Black the defense.

The argument was concluded late in the afternoon. Mr. Hill submitted his brief and Mr. Black was given one week within which to submit his brief. It is not known when the motion will be decided.

NEW YANKEE INVASION.

American Traction Capitalists Interested in Pittsburgh Lines to Invest in Paris Railways.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by New York Herald.)

PARIS, Nov. 14.—A new factor will shortly make itself felt in the affairs of the tramway lines of Paris. A party of American capitalists, comprising many interested in the traction companies which control the surface lines in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other big cities in the United States, is about to invest a large sum of money—millions, it is said—in the development and strengthening of lines controlled by the Compagnie Generale de Traction of Paris.

This company at present owns a number of lines entering Paris, of which the principal and best one runs from the Place de l'Opera through the rue du Quartre Septembre to Les Lilas. Another line runs from the fortifications past the Auteuil racecourse. The operations of the company have not been very successful of late, principally owing to the fact that it has not been able to secure capital necessary for the proper development of its lines.

A rival American tramway organization, the Thomson-Houston Company, has been endeavoring for some time to secure control of the Compagnie Generale de Traction, but the French company fought against this absorption, preferring to secure additional capital from outside sources. It has now practically succeeded, and it is believed that very shortly these Parisian tramway lines will be practically under American control.

A STRANGLER'S WORK ON WOMEN AT EVANSVILLE

Four Strikingly Similar Murders This Year, Two of Them Sunday Night.

TWO VICTIMS DRUGGED

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

EVANSVILLE, IND., Nov. 14.—Evansville people are wondering if they have a "Jack the Strangler" in their midst. Four women have been murdered near this city. They are:

Mrs. Mary Stark, strangled to death while out driving with a stranger in April, 1899; body thrown into a ditch; no clew.

Mrs. Fannie Butler, choked to death in her own home May 3, 1901.

Mrs. Georgie Bailey, strangled; the crime committed some time during the night of November 11.

Miss Lena Renner, strangled in a similar manner; body found in a ditch on evening of November 12.

Post mortem examination showed that Miss Renner had been drugged with morphine. In the case of Mrs. Butler morphine poison had also been administered.

The resemblance in the manner of meeting death in three of these cases is so close as to be startling. Each went to meet a mysterious man who was to take her buggy riding. All were killed on a rainy night. All were left by the roadside. Two of them, Mrs. Storck and Lena Renner, were thrown into ditches partly filled with water, and these two were found in almost exactly the same place.

Miss Renner left home Monday night about 8 o'clock, telling her friends that she was going to take a ride with a friend. That night was dark and rain fell in sheets. The fact that the body of Miss Renner was thrown in the same spot where the body of Mrs. Storck lay for several days, leads the police to believe that the two crimes were committed by the same hands.

"I have put the entire department to work on this case," said Chief of Police Fred Heuk, "and shall continue the investigation until we have brought these monsters to justice. I believe the murder of Mrs. Bailey and Lena Renner were committed by different persons."

The county commissioners today offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the murderers.

Three years ago Miss Nora Kifer of Elberfield, Ind., came here to visit relatives. Within a few days of her arrival she disappeared. A month later her body was found in the creek with a rock tied around her neck. Joseph Keith, a wealthy farmer who had courted the girl, was convicted of the crime. He will pay the penalty on the gallows at Michigan City tomorrow.

"I know the man who murdered my mother," said Allen Bailey to a correspondent this afternoon. "The crime was planned deliberately and I have learned enough to believe that mother was killed, not in the outskirts of the city, as the police think, but in front of her own home. She did not go out buggy riding Monday night."

Husband Almost Lynched.

OSHKOSH, WIS., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Ernest Meyer it at a hospital dying from burns which have made her unrecognizable, and her husband has been locked up. He was rescued by the fire department from angry neighbors who were talking of lynching him, and taken to the station.

BIG PITTSBURGH COMBINE SOON TO BE PROSECUTED

U. S. District Attorneys Instructed to Proceed Under Sherman Act.

OTHER SUITS TO BEGIN

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Herald tomorrow will print a Washington dispatch which says:

"Instructions have been sent from the department of justice to three United States district attorneys in as many different districts, to begin proceedings against certain corporations of whose methods of operations complaints have been received by the attorney general.

"One of these combines has its headquarters in Pittsburgh, and several of its constituent factories are in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. It also has branches in some of the middle western states, including Missouri and Kansas. Its capitalization runs into the tens of millions of dollars.

"Nearly three months ago the department of justice undertook to investigate complaints against this company and two others. One district attorney, under directions from Washington, has carried his investigation to a point where material results are expected to follow.

"If the expectations of the department are realized in respect to the Pittsburgh combination, several of the most prominent men of that part of the country will also be indicted or be made defendants in a civil action. Prosecutions under the Sherman anti-trust law may be either civil or criminal or both.

"Section 1 of the Sherman law provides that persons found guilty of engaging in trust or monopolistic business 'shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both of said punishments in the discretion of the court.'

"Section 7 of the law reads: 'Any person who shall be injured in his business or property by any other person or corporation by reason of anything forbidden or declared to be unlawful by this act, may sue therefor in any circuit court of the United States, in the district in which the defendant resides or is found, without respect to the amount in controversy, and shall recover threefold the damages by him sustained and the costs of the suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.'

"This section of the anti-trust law is quoted inasmuch as the complainant against the Pittsburgh combination asserts that his business has been hampered and restrained because of the refusal of the combine to sell him certain products of its manufacture, for the alleged reason that he declined to consider a proposition to enter a subsidiary combination which is dependent upon the combine for its raw material."

EFFECTIVE AND DIGNIFIED

Buffalo Officials Commended for Their Conduct of the Trial of Czolgosz.

BUFFALO, Nov. 14.—District Attorney Penney today received from Gov. Odell a letter accompanied by a communication from the secretary of war.

Secretary Root asks the governor to accept and convey to the officers charged with the administration of justice in the state of New York and especially in Erie county an expression of the satisfaction and approval upon the effective and dignified way in which the law has been vindicated and the ends of justice attained in the prosecution and punishment of the assassin, Czolgosz.

ORDER GIVEN TO EXERCISE MORE CARE

One Allegheny Resort Will Not Be Open at All Next Sunday.

NARROWER LIMITS ARE SET EVERY DAY

Residents of Infected Wards Are Afraid to Send Children to School.

MINISTER'S SEARCH FOR A MISSING MAN

He Had No Difficulty Whatever in Obtaining Entrance to Several Notorious Gambling Houses in the First and the Fourth Wards.

Fear has taken hold on the powers that be in the vice stricken wards of Allegheny. Narrower limits are being set each day for the proprietors of the gambling houses and speakeasies. The exposures of The Gazette have made discretion the better part of the imposed valor they have shown for many months.

Orders have been issued to one of the most notorious of the speakeasies in the Fourth ward directing its proprietor to do no business next Sunday. The proprietress in turn has advised her customers to lay in a supply by Saturday night. This word has gone to the discreetly houses in Goodrich street.

The police gave the order to the proprietor of the speakeasy, "Keep closed on Sunday," they said, "until this little reform wave blows over."

The resort in question is at the extreme eastern end of Robinson street. It has been one of the widest open in Allegheny. Its daily sales average 150 cases of beer.

One of the most distressing features of the reign of vice in the First and Fourth wards of Allegheny is its moral effect on the children in the neighborhood. It has become necessary for parents to keep their children off the streets during both day and night. Boys and girls of 10 years of age and younger have been frequently seen going into the resorts. One pretty young girl was seen going into one of the most notorious speakeasies in Allegheny, in Robinson street, with her school books under her arm. Almost any child can enter these places and purchase drink. In some of the resorts they are allowed to drink themselves.

Kept Away from School.

One woman, being a resident in East Robinson street, in describing some of the scenes that have occurred there recently, said: "We cannot trust our children on the streets. I have a little boy past 7 years of age and was compelled to keep him away from school on account of the dens of vice. One afternoon this week I sent him to the store on an errand and when he came back he told me some of the remarks he had heard. It was something awful.

"Only yesterday afternoon I saw a woman coming up Robinson street from a notorious clubhouse near Grant's alley. She was under the influence of liquor and was but scantily clad. Under one arm she carried three bottles of beer. Running along at her side was her little girl. A boy several years older than the girl was with them. A policeman was standing on the corner and when I saw the woman I called his attention to her. 'I did not see her,' was his response. 'No; you were paid to look the other way,' I replied, and the officer walked on down street."

"I saw a girl of 15," declared another resident of the Fourth ward, "walk into one of the largest speakeasies in this street. She had her school books and was accompanied by a boy about 16.

Hardly Able to Walk.

"She was in the house for over two hours and when she came out she could hardly walk. Her companion was not much more sober, but managed to support the girl and the two went in the direction of River avenue. It is not an uncommon sight to see groups of school boys with books under their arms enter this resort almost every afternoon. I have seen children staggering out of the place."

"Words cannot describe the evil the speakeasies and gambling houses are doing among the children in this ward. I have prayed for The Pittsburgh Gazette since it has taken up this crusade and my hope is that something may be accomplished to rid us from this plague. I have complained to the police time and again, but what did that avail? I finally sued one of the woman proprietors of a speakeasy, but she was discharged for the lack of evidence because I had never bought any liquor in her house. My face is as familiar in City hall, Allegheny, as that of Recorder Murphy, and every time I go there to make a complaint the police take to the exits."

A resident of Goodrich street in discussing the situation there said: "As one instance, I want to tell you of a scene on the steps of a speakeasy across the street the other evening. The proprietor was sitting on the steps with several companions. All were smoking cigarettes. Five little girls came up and the women began to tell them stories. The children were allowed to go into the house and came out later with a supply of cigarettes. One of them, a little girl about 8 years old, came over and sat down beside me. She had a lighted cigarette in her mouth."

No Place for a Home.

W. L. McFredorick, superintendent of the West Robinson street Methodist Episcopal mission, situated in the heart of the First ward tenderloin, said: "All the money in the world would not tempt me to move my family into the West Robinson street district, and subject my loved ones to the evil influences that would surround them here. The influences here are damning upon the little ones. We pin our faith in the children here; we find they are almost the only ones whom we can influence—but we find it very hard to counteract the evil they get from their street associations. Children swarm in this neighborhood, too."

Gambling houses and speakeasies in Allegheny have actually been so wide open in the past that a minister of the gospel could enter them practically without challenge. The Rev. E. Edward Young, not more than a month ago, when in search of an erring member of his flock, walked into a gambling house, witnessed a game of poker in progress and saw people drinking.

About four weeks ago the Rev. Mr. Young, with a prominent church worker of Allegheny, started out to search for the young man in question. He had not been in the city very long, but during the early part of his stay and become in-

RETAIL LIQUOR DEALERS APPROVE.

Henry Noll, President of the Association, Indorses The Gazette's Exposures and Tells of Similar Attempts.

Henry Noll, president of the Retail Liquor Dealers' association of Allegheny county, is in hearty accord with the efforts of the Gazette to drive speakeasies out of lower Allegheny. He said to a Gazette representative yesterday:

"We have done everything in our power to stop the illegal sale of liquor, but without success. I myself and other members of our association that live in Allegheny, have appealed to the officials, without getting any relief. I have gone to Mr. Murphy, when he was director of the department of public safety, and to Henry Muth, superintendent of police, but never got any satisfaction. They always promised to do something, but they never did it.

"We have no objection at all to chartered clubs, but we do not think it right that we should pay $1,100 license fee, close our places at 12 o'clock and on Sundays, and then have speakeasies running wide open.

"Another thing we object to, is the balls they hold over here, at which beer in large quantities is sold. The police have no right to permit that sale of liquor, and yet every ball is held with a police permit and officers attend everyone to preserve order. Recently some young men about here wanted to hold a ball. They were told they could not sell any beer. After a little manipulation, they went to Mr. Muth and explained that they had 32 votes among the young fellows that wanted to hold the ball. The ball was held and beer was sold.

"We are heartily in accord with the Gazette in its efforts to stamp out the speakeasy. I am sure at the next monthly meeting of our association strong resolutions, indorsing the course of the Gazette, will be passed. I have been reading your stories carefully, and know, from my own personal investigation, that the statements you have made are correct."

GUARDING AGAINST DYNAMITERS.

Armed Men Accompanying Burlington Trains to Repel Possible Robbers—Discovery of Explosives Worries Officials.

LINCOLN, NEB., Nov. 14.—Officials of the Burlington admitted tonight that since the first of the week their night trains leaving Lincoln have gone out with a guard armed with Winchester rifles. This precaution was taken following the discovery, last Sunday, of 26 sticks of dynamite, together with a number of masks, hidden under a bridge just outside the city.

Sunday night three men attempted to board the express car as a train pulled out of Lincoln for the east, but they were driven off. Monday the same three men were at Ashland, and an effort was made to arrest them, but they disappeared. A watch has been kept on the bridge where the dynamite was stored, but no one has come to claim it.

terested in church work. He was a good singer and seemed to give every promise of making a success in life.

Gambled in Allegheny.

A few months ago he became irregular in his habits, and his friends grew worried about him. Finally he disappeared altogether, and then came word that he had been frequenting an Allegheny gambling house and speakeasy. His friends, notably the Rev. Mr. Young and the church worker mentioned above, resolved to make an effort to find him.

One evening the two men crossed the Ninth street bridge from Pittsburgh and a short distance from the bridge they went in search of a gambling house where they had been told their young friend had been spending much time and losing much money.

The resort was not hard to find. A short distance back in an alley, a lighted side door and sounds of revelry within showed the way clearly enough. The Rev. Mr. Young and his companion passed through a yard up to a doorway and walked in. One of the employes of the place asked them what they wanted and they named the young man they were seeking.

Both men had pulled their hats low down on their heads and turned their coat collars up. They were immediately shown the way upstairs, where a game of poker was in progress. In passing men were seen drinking.

Arrived at the room in which was some person in authority about the place they inquired for the young man. They were told that while he had been about there frequently he had not been seen for almost two weeks, and the men that had grown to be his cronies and had been winning his money were wondering what had become of him. It was suggested that possibly he had gone to another gambling house in Darrah street, or that he might be at some place in Pittsburgh.

Blame Easily Fixed.

The search was continued through several places, and Pittsburgh was hunted over, but without success. The young man has apparently disappeared as completely as though the earth had swallowed him, and his friends lay it all to the Allegheny gambling houses.

The Rev. Mr. Young was interviewed by a representative of The Gazette yesterday afternoon. He feels very strongly on the subject of vice in Allegheny and has wished The Gazette every success in its efforts to stamp out lawlessness on the North side. The Rev. Mr. Young said:

"Every decent citizen of Allegheny will give The Gazette hearty support in this endeavor to rid the city of gambling hells and speakeasies. The time is probably not here for shutting up absolutely the disorderly house; but no law-loving citizen can say one word against the enforcement of laws prohibiting gambling and the sale of liquors without a license.

"Yes, I did find violations of the law in the lower wards of Allegheny a few weeks ago when I was endeavoring to find a young man who had been heard of last at one of the gambling houses.

"A prominent Christian worker and myself visited this gambling house, entered by a dark alley and through a back yard, found the bouncer—as I suppose he is termed—in the basement; after stating our object we were admitted upstairs and found very large rooms crowded with gamblers.

Other Places Suggested.

"The head man or his assistant informed us that the young man had been regularly at his place for some time, but had not been there for nearly two weeks. He suggested that he might be found at another gambling resort, and gave us the number and street it was located on.

"Investigations made by others incline me to believe that the lower rooms of this gambling house are used as a speakeasy and that there are numerous similar resorts of gambling and illegal liquor selling in the ower wards of Allegheny.

"The young man we sought has never been heard of since, and we suspect that he has left the city in disgrace or has died in some manner unknown. I doubt not than many a young man is lured to his ruin in Allegheny in like manner.

"Can the homes and the moral people of this community refuse their support to The Gazette in attempting to clear the city of these traps?

"I am not criticising the public officials. I would prefer to see them personally and talk the matter over before pronouncing any judgment upon their acts. But neither they nor the people should object to the facts being known and the law being enforced."

WILL SOON RESUME WORK

ANGLO-AMERICAN JOINT HIGH COMMISSION TO MEET

The End of the Royal Visit to Canada Will Again Afford an Opportunity for Settling the Alaskan Boundary and Atlantic Fisheries Questions—Few Vacant Places on the Commission Must Be Filled.

BY P. T. M'GRATH,
Special Correspondent.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 10.—It is understood here that the Anglo-American joint high commission will resume its sessions after the close of the duke of Cornwall's trip through Canada, until which time the dominion government will have its hands too full of the arrangements for his welcome to give the subject that attention which its importance demands. The readiness of the United States to agree to a resumption of the sessions of the conference is taken for granted, and it is hoped in Canada that a more satisfactory outcome will mark this effort at a compromise than attended the last.

The Alaskan boundary dispute is regarded as the most difficult of solution, but the Atlantic fisheries question is complicated by the impossibility of Canada being able to forecast what arrangement may be reached between the United States and Newfoundland. This colony is pressing for the renewal of the Bond-Blaine convention, which means independent fishery relations with the United States, and Canada is on the horns of a dilemma because if she fails in making an arrangement she can no longer maintain her veto against Newfoundland's separate treaty and the aforesaid convention would then take effect.

The seriousness of this situation is now fully realized in Canada, and it gives effect to the agitation in favor of the federation of Newfoundland with Canada which has just been started in the dominion papers and which is being advocated with might and main by the press of all shades of politics there, irrespective of their own party differences, it being regarded as a national rather than a local or partisan issue.

Canada is eager for union on various grounds—commercial, political and strategical. She wants it especially because as an independent colony Newfoundland has now the right to have her own special representative on the joint high commission and to vote on any fishery treaty arranged there.

Important changes in the composition of the committee will have to be made as death and other causes have thinned the ranks of the former body. Lord Herschell has passed away and a successor of equal eminence must replace him. Sir Louis Davies of the Canadian personnel has gone on the bench and is unavailable. Sir James Winter, Newfoundland's former spokesman, is no longer in public life and a new man must be named. Therefore, of the six on the British side, three places are vacant. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright and the Hon. John Charlton only are available.

On the American side death has claimed Mr. Dingley, perhaps the hardest loss of any to fill owing to his thorough knowledge of the eastern or Atlantic issues involved. Mr. Kasson has also practically gone into retirement and could hardly be availed of. Who will replace all these gentlemen is as yet unknown, save that Premier Bond would act for Newfoundland.

HEADQUARTERS WILL MOVE HERE

National Assembly of Boys' Brigade Decides to Leave Chicago.

COL. H. P. BOPE ELECTED COMMANDER

Pittsburgh Man Will Lead Order During Next Year—Discouraging Reports From Other Cities Add Lustre to Local Regiment.

The national assembly of the Boys' Brigade of America began its sessions yesterday morning in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Wood street. The first session opened with a small attendance due to the lateness of trains bearing the delegates from various parts of the country. The hall filled up during the morning, however, as the various delegations arrived, and by noon nearly all were present.

After appointing a committee to nominate the officers for the coming year, the assembly settled down to listen to the reports from the brigades in the various cities of the country. H. P. Bope, first vice president of the Carnegie Steel Company, and colonel of the Third regiment, of this city, was elected secretary.

As the reports from the different sections of the country were read it became evident that the work of the organization during the past year had not been as effective as was expected, and that in many cities there had been a great falling off in the interest manifested.

Pittsburgh was the only city that presented a report that could really be called enthusiastic. Both the western and the eastern cities showed a decided falling off in membership, and the report from the local organizations, which showed great and growing regiments and companies, and splendid promise for the future, was the one instance where a cloud of apathy did not seem to discourage the efforts of the officers.

The result of Pittsburgh's great showing appeared later in the day, when this city was made the national headquarters, and Col. Bope was elected commander-in-chief for the coming year.

The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock, and the time was devoted mainly to a discussion of the report of the retiring commander, O. C. Grauer of Chicago. This report, as read by Secretary Clark, indicated that the result of the year's work had been discouraging in the extreme to the national head of the order.

In the western cities the commander declared that the membership had fallen off and interest was at a low ebb, and the situation in the east was little better. The Boys' Brigade Monthly had suspended publication and the year closed with a debt of $800 hanging over the national headquarters in Chicago.

Col. H. P. Bope.

The reading of the report caused a discussion as to the advisability of moving the headquarters of the order to this city, which had made the best showing. Pittsburgh, in addition to being more nearly the geographical center of the organization, is and for some time has been the center of the work as now carried on.

Chairman S. Douglas Twinning, who is the surgeon general of the order, was the only representative of Chicago, the present headquarters, present, and he arose to oppose the removal scheme.

He stated, that while he appreciated the fact that the work, as carried on from Chicago, had not been satisfactory, and that Pittsburgh was the natural center from which to work, he was opposed to the removal of the national headquarters at the present time because of the debt which now hung over them. He would be perfectly willing and glad, he said, to see Pittsburgh made the center of the work if that debt were off their hands.

Several delegates arose and expressed themselves in favor of moving the headquarters, debt or no debt. An offer was finally made in behalf of Col. Bope, that he would pay off half of the indebtedness if the Chicago trustees would assume the other half. Chairman Twinning was delegated to bring the offer before the trustees.

A resolution was then introduced and passed unanimously, instructing the national board of trustees to close up the affairs of the headquarters in Chicago at the earliest possible moment and arrange for their removal to Pittsburgh.

The election of officers then came up and resulted as follows: President and commander-in-chief, Col. H. P. Bope, Pittsburgh; first vice president, O. C. Grauer, Chicago; board of trustees, George W. Wright, Milton Denny, E. M. Ford, H. C. Scottford of Chicago and H. T. Spicer of Philadelphia.

Before adjournment Col. Bope announced the appointment of John A. Clark of the Third regiment, this city, as his adjutant general.

A rally was held last night in the First Presbyterian church and addresses were made by men prominent in the order. All the local organizations attended in uniform.

DEAF MUTES MARRIED IN TRINITY.

Unique Ceremony Performed With Full Ritual, but Amid the Almost Unbroken Silence of the Church.

A marriage ceremony of a kind not often seen in Pittsburgh was solemnized in Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, at 8 o'clock last night. James C. Taylor of Allegheny and Miss Anna M. Fritscher of Wilkinsburg, both deaf mutes, were married by a deaf mute minister according to the ritual of the Protestant Episcopal church. The Rev. Austin W. Mann of Cleveland, general missionary to deaf mutes, performed the ceremony, while the marriage service was read aloud by the Rev. W. F. Dawson, assistant rector of Trinity parish.

A number of invitations had been issued for the wedding and considerably more than 100 people gathered in the church. Without a sound the bridal party started up the aisle, while the Rev. Mr. Mann and the Rev. Mr. Dawson waited at the chancel rail. The groom walked first, followed by Miss Elizabeth Escherich, maid of honor, and Rinehart Frittges, best man. Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father.

The bridal party grouped themselves in front of the ministers, and at a signal from the Rev. Mr. Mann, the Rev. Mr. Watson started in to read the regular marriage service. As the words fell softly over the otherwise silent building, Rev. Mr. Mann, in sign language, followed. The service, ring ceremony included, proceeded as in an ordinary marriage, save that there was no music of any kind, and when the couple had been pronounced man and wife and the customary prayer said, they marched down the aisle again, and the marriage was over.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine and carried white roses, while the maid of honor wore pink and carried pink roses. Both bride and groom are members of St. Margaret's Mission for Deaf Mutes of Trinity parish. The mission has had its headquarters at Trinity church for the past 25 years.

TROUBLE ON TAP FOR LIQUOR MEN

THEY ARE TO BE TREATED AS ALLIES OF OHIO DEMOCRACY.

Raised a Huge Campaign Fund to Defeat Legislative Ticket and Must Take Consequences—Dow Tax to Be Increased and a Ward Local Option Measure Passed—To Fight Against the Proposed Bills Will Be Useless.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—The Republican members of the assembly have agreed informally to teach the liquor interests of the state a lesson they will not soon forget. The brewers and saloonkeepers combined against the Republican state and legislative candidates in the recent election, and between them formed a large fund which they used independent of the Democratic committee. It was the most formidable and open opposition they ever manifested toward the party, so much so, in fact, as to permanently array them against it.

The Republicans, therefore, have classed them as allies of the Democracy and will treat them accordingly. The first retaliatory measure will be a bill introduced early in the session to increase the Dow state liquor tax from $250 to $500. This will be followed by a local option bill destined to give to each ward of every municipality in Ohio the right to indicate by popular vote whether it desires a saloon within its borders or not.

A similar bill was vigorously opposed by the brewers and saloon men at the last session and defeated by a very small margin. The new one is sure to be attacked with all the money and influence the liquor interests can command, and is just as sure to be passed.

A little announcement by Senator Foraker today nearly gave the numerous candidates for legislative positions palpitation of the heart. The senator will leave for Washington Saturday and will not return until the holidays. In a conversation today relative to the scramble for positions in the general assembly he said:

"I will take no part in this fight. The members of the legislature can settle that among themselves."

There have been many pilgrimages to Cincinnati during the past week, and many an anxious candidate has knocked at the door of the homestead on Walnut hills; but the senator will have a bit of rest.

There will be no use, moreover, in journeying to Senator Hanna's home in Cleveland, for since Mr. Foraker has decided to hold aloof, his colleague will assume precisely the same attitude. The entire legislative fight has, therefore, become a free field and no favorites, and the candidates will have to direct their campaigns to the individual members of the assembly. This will have the effect of preventing friction between the big party leaders and will give an added hilarity to the feverish scramble now in progress.

BUTLER PRODUCING CO.

It Has No Liability in a Suit Brought Against a Stockholder.

A news dispatch from Butler, Pa., published on November 11, stated that "writs with executions and attachments on judgments aggregating $20,000 were issued on the Butler Producing Company and E. J. Evans, president; B. F. Hammill, secretary, and J. H. Henderson, W. H. Whippo and others individually." The dispatch stated that "the holder of the judgments is J. V. Ritts of the Butler County National bank, and the Independent Producers Pipe Line Company is named as garnishee."

The publication has caused great annoyance to the Butler Producing Company and its officers, John Brown, president; B. S. Hammill, secretary-treasurer, and George C. Bellis, superintendent, have sent out a circular in explanation and denial. The Butler item was wrong in imputing to the Butler Producing Company liability for $20,000 or any other sum. The fact is stated to be that a suit has been brought against a small stockholder in the company and not against the company. The Butler Producing Company has no liability for the indebtedness alleged, and, as the circular states, "does not owe a dollar to any of its stockholders, except its stock liability, has become at no time responsible for any other debts of any other parties, and is a solvent and reliable 8 per cent dividend paying institution, owning as fine a piece of third sand production as Butler county contains." The circular further says that "the next quarterly dividend, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, becomes due and payable on the 15th of December next," and that "checks for the same will be mailed to stockholders as heretofore on said date."

be given a chance to listen. I am not ready now."

Changing the subject, he remarked: "Mrs. Stone, who has been to New York on a shopping tour, joined me tonight and tomorrow we will start for Harrisburg, making the trip by easy stages."

This colonial idea of "easy stages" impressed the governor as a bit of unconscious humor, and he held it poised, mentally, for a moment before dismissing the writer.

"There will be nothing tonight," he said, and retired to his room.

Attorney General Elkin went west this morning. Senator Penrose called upon the governor during the day. He did not see him last night, for the reason that the governor failed to send word of his coming.

ELKIN CONFERS WITH BIGELOW

Latter Is Still Confident the Recorder Will Not Be Removed.

SUPPORT FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Mr. Bigelow Declares That He Will Be a Delegate to the Republican State Convention and Will Be for the Indiana Man for Governor.

Attorney General John P. Elkin and Thomas S. Bigelow conferred for an hour at the Duquesne hotel last evening. The subject was the removal of Recorder A. M. Brown. At the conclusion Mr. Bigelow said that he was still confident the governor would not distrub Maj. Brown. The cabinet officer had no opinion to express.

It was another day of guessing for the Flinn element. The senator returned from his Philadelphia meeting with Gov. William A. Stone, but he declined to tell the result of his trip.

Thomas S. Bigelow gave the senator something to think about. The stalwart leader announced that no matter what happened he would sit in the next Republican state convention as a delegate for Attorney General Elkin, who will be a candidate for governor. This will mean that Mr. Flinn will either have to agree to Mr. Bigelow as a state delegate from the Fifth district or fight.

Mr. Bigelow made another announcement when he declared that as matters now stood he was in favor of the election of Gov. Stone to succeed M. S. Quay in the United States senate.

There was a crowd of hungry politicians at Flinn headquarters awaiting the coming of the senator. Waving his admirers a salute, he made a dash to the throne room where admittance is not an easy matter. The "boys" were given no assurance that his talk with the governor had been a success.

To the newspaper men the senator said: "I spent last evening with Gov. Stone in Philadelphia. Aside from this fact and that I am at peace with all the world, I have nothing to say. You will have to get the balance from the governor."

Flinn Dodges Questions.

"Do you think that Recorder Brown will be removed?"

"Ask the governor, John Elkin or Tom Bigelow."

"Do you expect to have another meeting with the governor on the subject?"

"I do not."

"Did you give the governor any advice about the Pittsburgh situation?"

"Now, you surely do not think that I would even venture to suggest to his excellency?"

"Is it not possible that you will soon be reinstated as chief of the insurgents?"

"There is no telling when I will be on the watch tower again."

"Thomas S. Bigelow has declared for John P. Elkin for governor. Are you for the attorney general?"

"I am not imitating Tom Bigelow."

The senator then turned to some of his lieutenants, who have been substituting on faith and hope, and were desirous of knowing when the menu will be changed. This sad scene is not for the cruel world.

Thomas S. Bigelow was next visited. "I am perfectly satisfied with the situation," said he. "I am confident that the governor will not remove Recorder Brown. I have not had any direct communication with the governor today."

One of the newspaper men asked Mr. Bigelow if Henry W. Oliver would be a candidate for the United States senate. To this he replied:

"I cannot speak for Mr. Oliver."

For months the opponents of the city administration have been endeavoring to make Gov. Stone believe that Mr. Oliver intended to be a candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator M. S. Quay. This has been done regardless of the fact that Mr. Oliver is not a candidate and The Gazette has so stated editorially.

Support for Gov. Stone.

One of the reporters then asked Mr. Bigelow:

"As between Mr. Oliver and Gov. Stone whom will you support for the senate?"

"Gov. Stone."

"Will you favor the governor regardless of what may happen?" was the next query.

"That is a leading question," was the smiling reply of Mr. Bigelow.

"Are you in favor of the nomination of John P. Elkin for governor?" was asked.

"No matter what happens, I intend to sit as a delegate in the next Republican state convention and vote and work for Mr. Elkin. He has been my friend."

This last announcement may mean much trouble for Senator Flinn. Both men live in the Fifth legislative district and with Mr. Bigelow as a candidate for delegate a finish fight can be expected. Mr. Bigelow has already demonstrated that he can carry a big section of the East End and he is not the least alarmed about the result on the South Side, which is in the legislative district. The declaration will probably hasten the attempt of the Flinn people to secure early primaries.

Mr. Elkin came to the city last evening fresh from his conference in Philadelphia with Gov. Stone. When Mr. Bigelow left the Duquesne after meeting Mr. Elkin he declined to talk. "My lips are sealed," was his reply to most questions. When asked if anything had occurred at the conference to change his prediction concerning the retention of Recorder Brown, he said that he was just as confident as he had been in the afternoon.

"I cannot discuss the local situation," said Mr. Elkin. "I have had a long talk with Mr. Bigelow, but I cannot go into details."

COKE OUTPUT DECREASED.

Production Larger in the Connellsville Region, But Car Famine Hinders Shipments.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The Courier will say tomorrow: Coke production in the Connellsville region was greater by over 2,000 tons last week than it was the previous week, but shipments fell behind. There has been practically no relief in the car famine. What has been feared for several weeks has come to pass. Upward of a score of furnaces have been compelled to bank for lack of fuel. It seems impossible to get coke west of Pittsburgh except in individual cars. Two of the Carrie group of furnaces at Pittsburgh have gone out of blast, two of the Carnegie group at Bessemer, the Clinton stack on the South Side, and one of the Duquesne stacks. Five furnaces are out for want of coke at New Castle, two at Sharpsburg, one at Sharon and eight about Youngstown, O. This was at the first of the week and it is likely that the number has been increased since then.

The detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending on Saturday, November 9, shows a total of 21,833 ovens, of which 19,902 were active and 1,921 were idle. Compared with the lists of the previous week, this was a gain in the active ovens of 72. The estimated production for the week was 236,376. The Mullen plant of 82 ovens, which has been idle for several months, has been fired up and so have all but 7 of the 103 idle ovens at Bessemer.

Shipments for the week aggregated 10,273 cars distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river ripples, 3,724 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 4,860 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 1,689 cars.

SCOTTDALE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Early this morning two negroes were discovered in the hardware store of Eicher & Craft in this place by the police. Seeing they were cornered the robbers opened fire on the police. The latter returned the fire and finally Chief of Police McWhorter forced his way into the store and covering the two negroes with his revolver, he held them until assistance arrived, when they were taken to the lockup.

Only Safe Medicine for Babies.

The insides of babes-in-arms and little children are very delicate and tender. Mothers must not be reckless in the use of physics. There is only one gentle, perfect, safe medicine for babies:

"Cascarets are fine for ladies with infants, as they keep both mother and child from becoming constipated. I use them daily in my practice."—Dr. A. E. Griffis, Stubblefield, Ky.

"I found Cascarets, in the case of my baby who is not very strong, the very best medicine I ever used. They do just what you recommend."—Mrs. S. M. Chapman, Stephens Mills, N. Y.

"I have become a firm believer in the efficacy of Cascarets. Even for baby he likes them."—Mrs. Lida Cermak, Jersey City.

"I think Cascarets splendid. They have benefited me greatly. My baby was afflicted with colic, and Cascarets afforded instant relief."—Mrs. Ella Riegler, Delta, Ohio.

"Mamma has used Cascarets and received great benefit. She thinks they are wonderful, and gave them to our baby before he was three days old."—Alice Sewell, 611 Eighth St., Go. Bostom.

"Our baby was sick and we were advised to try Cascarets. He was entirely cured. We cannot say too much in praise of Cascarets."—Mrs. Mollie Bowman, Minneapolis, Ill.

"Cascarets are indispensable for young children, and I always keep a box in the house."—Harry Joyce, St. Wesley, S. D.

"Cascarets work easy and without pain. I have given them to my babies with splendid results."—Mrs. E. Bettag, St. Louis, Mo.

Mamma takes a CASCARET, baby gets the benefit. Isn't that good sense? The sweet, palatable Candy Cathartic Cascaret, eaten by the nursing mother, not only regulates her system and increases her flow of milk, but makes her milk mildly purgative. Baby gets the effect diluted and as part of its regular, natural food;—no violence—no danger—perfectly natural results. No more sour curds in baby's stomach, no more wind, colic, restless nights.

MAKING IT HOT FOR MINISTERS

Liberal Party in England Showing a Surprising Amount of Peppery Activity—Forcing the Conservative Cabinet Upon the Defensive All Along the Line.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Fighting for their lives, is the comment of leading Liberals on the recent oratorical energies of the king's ministers. It would seem that the expression does not wholly misrepresent the facts.

For three months following the prorogation of parliament the government maintained an unbroken silence. No minister made a speech or wrote a letter. The cabinet simply abdicated. Meanwhile the country became profoundly impatient, and the best disciplined Conservative organs began to murmur, while the various factions of the opposition directed telling fire at the ministerial position.

Finally Mr. Chamberlain, realizing the danger of further silence, delivered a bitter partisan address at Edinburgh. Then Sir Michael Hicks-Beach took up the cudgel for the government at Bristol. Neither said anything calculated to allay anxiety, and the hostile criticism continued.

Urgent telegrams brought Lord Salisbury from the shores of the Mediterranean, and when the lord mayor's banquet arrived the premier administered a dose of sweet spirits of nitre to the feverish nation. While the remedy took effect in some quarters it did no good in others. Campbell-Bannerman, Morley and Harcourt persevered in their efforts to cause trouble and numerous lesser persons vigorously followed suit with energy and unanimity.

The opposition, supposed to be divided and distracted beyond repair, set up a painful uneasiness at Whitehall. Brodrick was ordered to go before the city at the Carleton club and make the best defense possible. Last night's careful and specific speech of the war minister was the result. The Liberals declare they smoked him out, and intend henceforth to compel the government to pay strict attention to the criticism of the opposition, many-minded though they may be.

The detailed facts that Brodrick was forced to lay before the country, are eagerly seized by the Liberal and Radican chieftains, who will make them a subject of future examinations. The government's policy is manifestly to place its ministers on the defensive all along the line, a fact which is regarded as surprising and shows a remarkable tribute to the moral vitality of Liberalism.

TARIFF BILL PASSED.

New German Schedule Raises the Rate on Several Articles Imported from United States.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—The Reichsanzeiger today publishes the German tariff bill as passed by the bundesrath. A few changes are noticeable, some of which affect American gods. All the essential features of the agricultural schedules have been retained. Hops have been increased from 40 to 60 marks per metric hundred weight. Hop meal has been increased to 40 marks per metric hundred weight. Raw cotton fabrics weighing 80 grammes or more per square metre will now pay from 50 to 60 marks per metric hundred weight. Grease will pay from 6 to 10 marks per metric hundred weight. Rice for the manufacture of starch will be reduced from 6 to 4 marks per metric hundred weight. Rough hickory handles will be reduced from 8 to 3 and the finest and lightest shoes will be increased from 120 to 180 marks per metric hundred weight. Horses under 2 years of age will pay 10 marks and those over 2 years will pay 20 marks per head. Photographic paper will uniformly pay 12 marks and varnish 7 marks per metric hundred weight.

When the airship leaves the shed it will pass over the bay of Monaco, where it will be put through evolutions daily during January and February. Whenever the weather permits the aeronauts will leave the bay and carry their experiments out over the Mediterranean. Finally, near the end of February, M. Santos-Dumont will attempt an aerial passage from Monaco to Calvi, Corsica, which he hopes to be able to accomplish in four hours.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—The Saxon diet was opened today. Prince George read the throne speech, in which he regretted the retrograde movement of commerce and industry and that agriculture was so heavily burdened.

FRANCE OUTWITTED BY THE WILY SULTAN

Diplomats Think Turkey Got the Best of It in Spite of the Naval Fuss.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 14.—A closer analysis of the Mitylene incident convinces diplomatists that the sultan scored a practical victory, despite the pomp and circumstance of France's naval maneuver.

Embassies and legations are agreed that France should have insisted on either cash or occupation of Turkish territory until the drafts are paid. As matters now stand, the sultan avoided making a loan and succeeded in having what he always knew he would be compelled to pay extended a period of six months, beginning next March, and then only £21,500 a month.

His majesty, who has been in terror of a hostile naval demonstration for 25 years, is said to be delighted at the easy way the Mitylene incident was closed, and henceforth will have little fear of such a proceeding.

HARD FIGHT IN CUBA.

Split in the National Party Insures a Close Contest for the Presidency of the Island.

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—The managers of Gen. Bartolome Maso, the candidate of the Democratic party for the presidency of Cuba, claim that he will have large majorities in the provinces of Santiago, Puerto Principe and Santa Clara. The National party in Havana, which had proclaimed Senor Tomas Estrada Palma its candidate for president, has split and a large faction has come out for Maso.

The supporters of Senor Palma are beginning to realize the possibility of a close election. It is said here that Gen. Maximo Gomez will be asked to stump Cuba for Senor Palma. Gen. Gomez is accredited with saying Senor Palma will have to fight hard to win.

Fierce fighting has occurred between the Benmisara and Mesmuda tribes in Morocco, resulting in the killing of many on both sides.

All efforts to bring about a reconciliation between the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Hesse, both grand-children of Queen Victoria, who have been estranged since 1895, have failed. A divorce is now being arranged.

The Turkish government is much exercised over the report that two American girls named Delauney and Stetson have started for Turkey with the idea of getting captured by brigands in a manner similar to the case of Miss Ellen Stone.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Brig.-Gen. Henry L. Robinson.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Brig.-Gen. Henry L. Robinson, who retired from the army a number of years ago, and in recent years had been a customs inspector, is dead at his home, 318 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, in his 90th year. He was born at Binghamton. Soon after the civil war broke out he was appointed assistant quartermaster with the rank of captain, and, being a railroad man, was assigned to the purchasing and disbursing office. In 1865 he was mustered out. While he held the office he disbursed nearly $19,000,000. For his assistance in carrying out a movement at Harpers Ferry, Capt. Robinson was promoted colonel. When President Lincoln was assassinated Col. Robinson had charge of the transportation of the body to Springfield, Ill. Later he was made a brigadier general. Gov. Dix at one time appointed him a port warden.

YANKEES AFTER GERMAN SHIPS

American Insurance Company Causes a Panic in Berlin by Buying Debenture Stocks of the North German Lloyd Company Fears for Hamburg Line.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—With the announcement tonight of the purchase by the Mutual Life of New York for 5,000,000 marks of the debenture stocks of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, German shipping financial interests sustained a shock comparable only to the effect of Morgan's absorption of the Leyland line. It is conceded that the threatened American raid on the kaiser's merchant marine is now a serious actuality, with especially alarming prospects of expanding, in view of the monetary stress of both the great German lines.

The financial editor of the Tageblatt, in discussing the deal, which he calls mystifying, said:

"This is not the first occasion in recent times that Europe has experienced an invasion of American capital. The Lloyd transaction, however, marks a new departure and is fraught with possibilities to the German shipping which cannot be lightly passed by. As long as American capitalists enter the German market in the guise of relief agents we can afford to look upon it with equanimity; but stockholders and directors of the Hamburg-Bremen lines must clearly guard against American investment becoming a predominant factor in their affairs.

"We shall not be surprised to hear that the Hamburg-American line will find it convenient to seek financial assistance from America."

Tonight's news follows upon the heels of the denial issued by Director Ballin that American capitalists threatened to capture German shipping lines. Ballin announces that within a few weeks his company intends to obviate such possibility by amending articles of the association so that they will exclude American directors or the dummies ecting for such.

I was troubled with what doctors called indigestion and dyspepsia. One called it heart disease. There was sick headache and pains in the stomach, more so after eating. A relation told me to try Ripans Tabules, for she said they were cheap and it would not hurt me to try them. I purchased a package at the drug store and used them as directed, and they are the best medicine I ever used. I can eat almost anything now, and have gained fifteen pounds. I was very delicate, and some people thought I had consumption. I am only 19 years of age, and my friends are asking me what has made the change, and I tell one and all Ripans Tabules.

Because of Coke Shortage—The Monongahela furnaces of the National Tube Company in McKeesport will be banked this week, unless arrangements can be made for a coke supply. A Daring Attempt—It is not common to hear of a negro trying to steal a red-hot stove, but a negro who has the nerve to steal a boiler loaded with steam is still more of a novelty. George Taylor was charged with that yesterday before Magistrate J. V. McMasters of Grant street. George is now doing a 30-day term in the workhouse.

Curate for St. Peter's—The Rev. Father Leonardo, spiritual head of the St. Vitus Roman Catholic church of New Castle, has been appointed curate of St. Peter's South Side church. BYERS WON THE CUP.

Defeated the Holder, John Moorhead, Jr., By One Up. After a Close Contest.

E. M. Byers won the President's cup of the Allegheny Country club yesterday afternoon in the final match by a score of one up in 18 holes. John Moorhead, Jr., who was the winner of this event last season, was the runner up and made a hard struggle for the honor, only being beaten out at the finish. Fast golf was prevented by the wind and flurries of snow. The winner had a medal score of 83, while Mr. Moorhead's card showed an 86.

Mr. Moorhead took the lead at the start and had the biggest margin of the match with two up at the seventh. Byers took the next two holes, and it was all even at the ninth. At the completion of the 15th hole, Moorhead was again in the lead, by one hole, but the amateur champion took the next two and was up with one to play. The last hole was halved and the trophy, presented by Harry Darlington, went to Byers.

I Coughed

It's the experience of every one. Sooner or later we all take cold. Colds naturally tend downward, that's the trouble. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops this downward tendency and quickly cures these early colds. Ask your doctor. If he says this isn't so, don't believe us.

"I know from personal experience that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quickly breaks up a heavy cold on the lungs."

STRIKE LOST BY TREACHERY

Simon Burns Makes Strong Statement in His Annual Message.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR SCORED

Assertion Made That the Loss of the Recent Steel Strike Was Directly Due to This Organization. Sympathy for Shaffer.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 14.—At the national convention of the Knights of Labor this afternoon General Master Workman Simon Burns submitted his annual report, which consisted largely of an attack on the American Federation of Labor. The general executive committee and Secretary-Treasurer Hayes also reported. Hayes recommended that the order secure the introduction in Congress of laws to control the trusts.

General Master Workman Burns in his annual message refers to the recent strike of iron workers and says:

"It matters not what errors and mistakes are charged to the officers and members of the Amalgamated association; the facts are that the steel companies were victorious because of the treachery and failure of organized labor to do its duty. The Amalgamated association expected at least the friendship of the officers of the American Federation of Labor. They received nothing but deception and opposition. It is a question if the Amalgamated organization would have entered the contest under the circumstances if it was not for the promises made and relied upon from the members of the American Federation of Labor to assist them in what they believed to be right.

"During the last great strike of the coal miners and those affiliated with them, the public, the Knights of Labor, and other independent labor organizations contributed more to the financial aid and success of the miners than the federation, yet the federation received the credit, and in return they attempt to disrupt other organizations. In the late steel strike, members of the American Federation of Labor, after their local organizations refused to contribute to the steel workers, solicited money from independent labor organizations to help the Amalgamated association, who were affiliated with them. The officers and members of this great federation of labor had the opportunity of their lives to demonstrate what they, with their great numbers, could do; but through fear of their organization or the influence brought to bear on some of them, they failed to prove themselves worthy of the name of organized labor.

"The leaders of the American Federation of Labor did not want President Shaffer or his organization to win, because it might have given that organization and President Shaffer some prestige and prominence. The largest political organization today is the Federation of Labor, using the name of labor for the purpose of advancing a few men politically to the great injury of the many. Any labor organization that advances or benefits the wage earner should be encouraged, but such political organizations, using the workingmen for a blind, should be known by their true name and reputation.

"In the city of Pittsburgh, the greatest industrial city of the world, organized labor has been working in harmony, accomplishing some good in its labor league, where all organizations are welcome as members, regardless of whom they may be affiliated with. A few months ago the paid organizers and the national officers of the federation started a movement to disrupt the labor league of Western Pennsylvania, which has existed for some years. They make a special attack on the Knights of Labor, and without any good reason. This movement of theirs, like some of their other actions, will react against them."

DIANA OF BELLEVERNON.

That Town Possesses a Telephone Girl Who Is a Devotee of the Ancient Goddess.

Miss Lottie Husher, the operator in the Federal Telephone Company's exchange at Bellevernon, is an open air girl, and now that the hunting season is here, she is not to be outdone by any Nimrod in Pennsylvania.

Last Tuesday she put a sub on and, donning her hunting jacket and slinging her trusty shotgun over her shoulder, she sallied forth for a day's hunting. A couple of pheasants, two rabbits, and one squirrel were the result of her prowess and Bellevernon is justly proud of its female hunter.

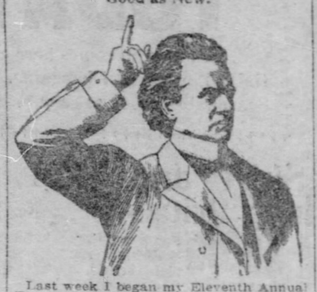
MUNYON.

Free Distribution OF HIS DYSPEPSIA CURE BEGINS TODAY AND CONTINUES TOMORROW.

If you Have Any Stomach Trouble, Come! If you Are Nervous and Can't Sleep, Come! This Remedy Will Make Old Stomachs Almost as Good as New.



Last week I began my Eleventh Annual Free Distribution of my Remedies from leading drug stores, giving away several hundred vials of my Cold Cure. I firmly believe that every person who used this remedy will recommend it to his neighbor. Early this week I distributed free from the drug stores named below my Rheumatism Cure, a remedy that has cured more rheumatics and received more indorsements than any other medicine ever known. If you have stiff or swollen joints, try it.

If you have a lame back, try it.

If you have sciatica, try it.

If you have shooting pains in the arms, legs, sides, breast or back, try it.

It probably has the largest sale of any one medicine ever offered the public. It relieves nearly every form of Rheumatism in from one to three hours, and generally cures before one vial has been used. It is a surprise to the medical profession—it is a boon to suffering humanity. There is no "perhaps it will cure," or "it may," or "guess it will cure," but it cures and cures permanently. Doesn't put a disease to sleep, only to break out again more violent in the future, but it enriches the blood, neutralizes the acids and drives away every vestige of Rheumatism from the body.—MUNYON.

If you are suffering from any form of Rheumatism and did not call for a free trial, ask your druggist for a 25c vial of MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM CURE, and it will be the best investment you ever made.

Distribution of Dyspepsia Cure—which begins this morning and continues one week—will be from the following drug stores:

Pittsburgh—Monongahela House Pharmacy, F. H. Eggers & Son, 11 Smithfield st.; Jos. Fleming & Son, druggists, 410 and 412 Market st. and 1 and 2 Diamond; Mack's Drug Store, Christy Drug Store, Fourth ave. and Smithfield st.; P. C. Schilling Co., Sixth st. and Penn ave.; P. C. Schilling Co., 2601 Penn ave.; P. C. Schilling Co., Twelfth and Carson sts., South Side; S. J. HOME MISSIONS ARE CARED FOR Great Fund of Methodist Episcopal Church Being Distributed.

CAREFUL WORK OF THE COMMITTEE

Reduction in Amount on Hand Required Pruning of Estimates for Different Conferences — Nearly Half a Million for Home Missions.

The "million dollar" general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church continued its business sessions yesterday, morning and afternoon in Christ church. In the evening two big platform meetings were held, one in Emory Methodist Episcopal church, East End, and the other in North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. The platform meetings drew great crowds and many eloquent addresses were made.

During the morning hours the rate of apportionment between the money set aside to home and foreign missions was discussed, and after many stirring speeches fixed at 43 per cent for home missions and 57 per cent for foreign missions. The total sum available, $1,024,442, will be divided in this proportion.

In the afternoon the actual work of appropriating moneys to the various conferences in the home mission field was taken up. Every conference that received help last year, as its name was called, had a hearing, its cause being pleaded by the representative from the conference district in which it is located, or by one or more of the bishops. In some cases an increase in the appropriation over that of last year was recommended, but in most instances there was a reduction. This was due to the fact that the committee, according to the laws of the church, cannot appropriate more money than is actually on hand, and a shortage of funds for the home mission fields caused the committee to make a general cut of 8 per cent on last year's figures.

The Care in Distribution.

One of the most significant characteristics of the committee is its care in husbanding the funds which it must deal out. The utmost care is exercised in arriving at a just apportionment, based on the needs of the conferences, and to see to it that as a conference develops resources its allowance be cut down and it be taught to be self-supporting.

The conference of Dakota got a severe pruning on its appropriation. As soon as the committee had come to Dakota on the list of appropriations Bishop Walden moved that the appropriation of last year, which was $8,000, be reduced by the 8 per cent to which all the other items on the list were subjected. This did not satisfy most of the members, and a number of speakers quickly demanded recognition from the chairman, Bishop Merrill.

Bishop Foss and Dr. H. C. Jennings, treasurer of the missionary society, stated that the committee has been too generous with the conference of Dakota, and advocated a cut of 15, 20, or even 25 per cent on last year's allowance. Others made speeches to the same effect, with the result that nearly $1,500 was lopped off, at one cut, the appropriation being reduced to $7,510.

The conference of Des Moines also came in for a reduction. Several members of the committee told of the prosperity of that section of the country, stating that the granaries are full and that the churches there ought to be able to support their own home missions without calling upon the committee for help. Some advocated cutting off the appropriation entirely. As a compromise the figure was set at $900.

Kansas Escapes Unscathed.

Kansas conference, owing largely to the able plea made by the Rev. Dr. H. J. Coker, the representative from Kansas, came out unscathed, not even the 8 per cent being cut off. Dr. Coker told of the poverty-stricken condition of many parts of Kansas, due to the long drought of last summer and the resulting failure of the corn crop. He stated that a reduction of the appropriation in this quarter, however small, would entail actual suffering on the church people. He carried his point and the $1,200 appropriation of last year was repeated for the coming year.

In the course of the discussion of the amounts of money to be allowed to the several conferences the question of the relative importance of city evangelization work came up. This is a comparatively new branch under the care of the committee, and some of the members seemed to be not thoroughly familiar with the subject. In view of this fact, and also because some new conferences are applying for additional appropriations for the city work, Bishop Walden moved that a committee be appointed to especially consider this part of the work and report to the general committee later. The motion at once met with vigorous opposition, and several good, spicy speeches were made. Some of the speakers that took part in the debate were Bishops Foss, Fowler, Joyce and Fitzgerald, and Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate. The motion was lost by a small margin.

Special Needs Were Considered.

Owing to the special needs of much of the northwest territory, where the drought was felt most severely, Bishop Cranston moved that a sub-committee be appointed, with Bishop Mallalieu as chairman, to readjust the apportionments among the conferences in that territory. Bishop Andrews amended the motion so that the committee should consist of Bishop Mallalieu, Bishop Cranston and the Rev. Dr. J. Parsons of Oregon. The motion prevailed. This committee will report to the general committee today.

The appropriations made yesterday for home missions, by conferences, were as follows:

For conference work of the Potomac and Ohio, and east of the Mississippi—Detroit, $3,750; East Maine, $1,534; Illinois, $1,000; Maine, $712; Michigan, $3,100; New England, $1,000, for work among the Jews; New Hampshire, $1,262; Northern New York, $920; Troy, $975; Vermont, $1,200; West Wisconsin, $3,608; Wilmington, $720; Wisconsin, $3,156.

For conferences in Iowa, Kansas and states north of them, including Black Hills and Oklahoma conferences—Black Hills, $5,840; Dakota, $7,510; Des Moines, $900; Kansas, $1,200; Minnesota, $3,085; Nebraska, $4,400; Northwest Nebraska, $3,100; West Nebraska, $5,050; Colorado, $7,000.

Probably all of today will be required to complete the appropriations for the home mission stations.

In the forenoon, incidental to the discussion of the apportionment of the funds between home and foreign missions, many strong speeches were made. Also during this session the committee appropriated $40,000 for incidental expenses. Other appropriations were as follows: For salaries of officers and bishops, $36,000; for disseminating literature, $32,000; for expenses of field secretary, $6,180.

Companies Must Pay.

Frank J. Hearne, in his cases against the nine insurance companies in the United States circuit court, was given a verdict in which he will receive $10,270 from the German Insurance Company of Freeport, Ill., and $5,135 each from the Aetna Insurance Company of Hartford, the Netherlands Fire Insurance Company, the New Hampshire Fire Insurance Company, the Baloise Fire Insurance Company of Baise, Switzerland, the Citizens Insurance Company of Missouri, the Rochester German Insurance Company, the Greenwich Insurance Company and the Glen Falls Insurance Company.

FAMILY UNITED BY RE-MARRIAGE

MAURICE RUBEN AND HIS WIFE WEDDED AGAIN IN CHICAGO

After Seven Years of Separation, Wife Has Become Reconciled—Ruben Was Adjudged Insane Because He Denied Jewish Faith and Became a Christian—Wife Secured a Divorce and Kept Their Baby Boy.

Maurice Ruben, superintendent of the Jewish Mission, on Congress street, and a convert to Christianity, was reunited to his wife, Mrs. Belia Ruben, in Chicago on Wednesday after a separation of seven years.

Mr. Ruben became converted to Christianity some seven years ago, little more than half a year after his marriage. Upon his renunciation of the Hebrew faith his friends believed that he had lost his mind. He was committed to the insane asylum at Dixmont and his wife returned to her mother in Nebraska, firm in the belief that her husband was crazy.

The case was brought to the notice of J. B. Corey, who immediately took an interest in Ruben, and applied for a writ of habeas corpus to release him from the insane asylum. Judge J. W. F. White ordered Ruben's immediate release as soon as the evidence in the case had been presented.

Meanwhile Mrs. Ruben, at her parents' home in Nebraska, had obtained a divorce from her supposedly insane husband. About the same time she gave birth to a boy baby. All efforts to persuade Mrs. Ruben to return to her husband were unavailing. Three years ago she came to Pittsburgh and then friends tried to bring the couple together, through the influence of the child. But Mrs. Ruben remained obdurate, refusing to return to her husband unless he would renounce Christianity.

In spite of his wife's divorce and her refusal to return to him Mr. Ruben remained faithful to her. He contributed to her support constantly and endeavored by every means to restore her affection for him.

After Mr. Ruben became a Christian he devoted his energies to the conversion of Hebrews, and has been very successful. His efforts in this direction reached his wife's ears and influenced her a great deal. Mrs. Witenburg, Mrs. Ruben's mother, recently became a convert to Christianity herself, and through her influence and that of several friends Mrs. Ruben was at last persuaded that her husband was really sane and the couple are united again.

Mr. Corey, who stood Mr. Ruben's friend during his incarceration in Dixmont, received the following telegram from Mr. Ruben, telling of the reunion: "Reunited in the Lord yesterday. Glorious triumph. Letter here. Blessing." This telegram announced the remarriage of the divorced couple.

Mr. Ruben is bound on an evangelistic tour through Syracuse, Utica and other New York state cities, and expects to reach Pittsburgh the last of this month. His wife will accompany him on the tour. A reception will be tendered the reunited couple upon their return.

PROGRESS IN EIGHTH YEAR.

Annual Reports of Baptist Young People's Union Officers Are Very Satisfactory.

The eighth annual meeting of the Baptist Young Peoples Union, Pittsburgh and Allegheny, was held yesterday in the Shady Avenue Baptist church, East End.

The devotional services with which the meeting opened was conducted by the Rev. G. A. Sheets. The Rev. H. C. Gleiss presided, and the reports of the various officers showed that satisfactory results were being obtained. The Rev. W. H. Geistweit, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, Chicago, and editor of the Baptist Union, made the address of the afternoon. Other addresses were made by the Rev. J. M. Moore and the Rev. George E. Enterline.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, the Rev. J. M. Moore, Wilkinsburg; vice president, Mrs. F. B. Squibb, McKeesport; secretary, Sidney Hollingsworth, Allegheny; Treasurer, J. Edward Gibson, Sharpsburg; corresponding secretaary, E. J. Hecht; transportation leader, J. S. Adams; junior leader, Miss Katherine Hughes; state representative, H. C. Gleiss.

ASKS FOR TROOPS.

Governor Requested to Send Militiamen to Hopkins County.

EARLINGTON, Ky., Nov. 14.—Adjt. Gen. David B. Murray, who has been in Madisonville for two days looking into the mining situation, this afternoon telephoned the governor recommending that troops again be sent to Hopkins county.

There is agitation among the union miners today over the news of the restraining order against the officers and members of the United Mine Workers, granted by Judge Evans in the United States court at Louisville, to restrain the union men from camping on or "within gunshot" of the property of the mine owners.

The coal operators, non-union employes and the business men generally are pleased with the news of the injunction and express the belief that general and permanent relief will come of it.

DOYLE DENIES REPORT.

Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Co. Not Offered to the Federal.

James T. Doyle, representing the owners and stockholders of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company, says there are no negotiations between the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company and the Federal Telephone Company with a view to their amalgamation. Mr. Doyle declares that the report is erroneous.

He said: "I see that a statement is alleged to have been made by a certain official of the Federal Telephone Company, to the effect that the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company has been offered to the Federal Company twice. There is no truth in the statement that the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Company has been offered to anybody. It is not for sale."

GATHERING IS COSMOPOLITAN

Engineers and Experts from Every Clime at Work in Monterey.

GIANT STEEL PLANT IS GOING UP

Foreign Capitalists Are Investing $10,000,000, in First Great Steel Works of Sunny Mexico—Works Nearing Completion.

The most cosmopolitan assemblage of mechanics and mechanical experts ever employed in the construction of a modern manufacturing plant is to be found this month at Monterey, Mexico, where the French-Mexican-American company, the "Compania Furdidore de Fierro y Acero de Monterey," began work some months ago on a great ten-million-dollar steel plant, into the construction of which much Pittsburgh material is entering. William White, Jr., of Pittsburgh, the head engineer for the new plant, arrived here last week from a trip to Monterey, and will return the latter part of next week.

"We have experts from nearly every clime at work in Monterey," said Mr. White yesterday. "One engineer is fresh from Austria; several are Germans, one an exceptionally bright fellow, is a Turk, just over from Constantinople, and there are numbers of French, English and American mechanics and experts. Yet it is a happy family. Every man is competent in his own line, and the work is going on speedily.

American Electrical Experts.

"The electrical engineers and some of the others are Americans, of course. By March 1 we expect to have the furnaces and hot blast stoves in operation, while the open hearth department and the balance of the plant will not be ready to start before July. Some of the material has been delayed, and my mission here is to hurry the shipments."

Soon after the first of December a hundred skilled workmen from Pittsburgh will start for Monterey to assist in the work on the furnaces and hot blast stoves, which are being put in by G. W. McClure, Son & Co. of this city. An immense order of brick, most of it furnished by the Harbison & Walker Company, is already on the way. The structural iron for the new buildings is being shipped by the American Bridge Company, and several of the new buildings are almost completed.

The iron work on the furnaces is nearly all in position, and by December 15 a member of the firm of McClure & Co. will be on the ground, personally directing their completion. While the skilled workers are all being brought from other countries for the construction work, the day labor is being performed by the natives—which accounts in part for the delays experienced thus far, the laziness of the Mexican laborer being traditional.

A Great Plant Is Planned.

The company, in which French, Mexican and New York capitalists are interested almost equally, has a plot of 600 acres three miles from Monterey in the heart of the Bessemer ore and coal region of Mexico. Five great buildings are already nearly complete—the blast furnace, stock house, 20x60 feet; a blast furnace cast house, 180x50; a blast furnace blowing engine house, 130x50; blast furnace boiler house, 135x50, and the open hearth building, 204x100. The others are still incomplete, or yet to be begun—the main mill building, 128x100; the tin mill boiler house, 200x50; the rail finishing mill, 196x50; the foundry, 225x120; the machine shop, 225x120; the power plant, 156x56; the forge building, 100x50; the store house, 60x60; the oil house, 60x30, and several smaller structures. Most of these are already under contract, while extensions to the plant in the way of stuctural mills, a merchant and wire mill, and plate mills are in contemplation. The mines, where a fine deposit of bituminous coal has been located, have already been opened.

NEW HOME FOR AGED WOMEN.

Fine Institution Built By Colored People Dedicated in the East End.

The Home for Aged and Infirm Colored Women, Lemington and Lincoln avenues, was dedicated yesterday. A reception and musicale, lasting from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m., gave visitors an opportunity to inspect the fine new building. It is of brick and terra cotta, trimmed with white and cost $40,000. It contains 28 rooms and will accommodate 45 inmates, 12 being now there. Mrs. Jennie Kirnan is matron.

The Rev. M. B. Lanier of Grace Memorial Presbyterian church offered the dedicatory prayer and the Rev. George B. Knox of the Wylie Avenue African Methodist Episcopal church delivered the dedicatory address. An address was also made by John A. Downey, Esq.

The officers of the home are: President, Mrs. S. J. Dorsey; financial secretary, Mrs. William M. Jones; recording secretary, Mrs. Lillian Dorkins; treasurer, Rev. George B. Knox.

The home was crowded all day with visitors, the majority of whom made donations of money or articles of furniture. The parlor was furnished by the Aurora Literary club, and it is hoped that other clubs will assist in furnishing other rooms.

TWELVE PAGES.

Monroeism and Europe.

The Pall Mall Gazette is sure that the "Monroe doctrine is in the interest of peace." Other London papers voice the same sentiment. A different opinion is expressed in Germany. The Berliner Tageblatt for example declares that Senator Lodge's expression of the American purpose to maintain the Monroe principle "corresponds fully with the extreme views of the yellow press, and sounds singular from an American statesman who is an intimate friend of President Roosevelt." It also insists that this "shows a growth of jingoism and a certain overtension of American self-confidence all the more striking since the American papers for some time have been discussing the acquisition of an American station in European or African waters." The views of the Tageblatt are not peculiar to the German capital. There have been similar expressions in Vienna, Paris and St. Petersburg. In fact, continental Europe resents the Monroe doctrine. Continental enmity to England is undoubtedly responsible for much of the resentment. The Monroe principle operates to protect English dominion in this hemisphere. At least it makes England's stay a matter to be settled between that nation and the United States alone. A demonstration by a European force against one of England's American possessions would be considered an act unfriendly to the United States. England has foes who would be glad to assail her in this quarter, but the United States bars the way. England knows this and English sentiment is increasingly favorable to Monroeism. Europe knows it and growls.

Doubtless, however, European statesmen will admit that, similarly situated, their policy would not differ materially from that of the statesmen of this country. It is not our design to protect England against Europe, but to protect ourselves. That England is a beneficiary of the Monroe doctrine is a mere incident. The principle also operates against England in preventing an extension of her American dominions. For this reason it further operates against England in causing her influence to decrease relatively on the American continent with the growth of the influence of the United States. This should be some consolation to European statesmen.

Roosevelt and the Trusts.

The St. Louis Republic pretends to be disturbed by a fear that President Roosevelt may not be given cordial support by influential Republicans in a campaign against "the trusts," hoping meanwhile that the fear is well founded. The Republic is not, however, advised as to Mr. Roosevelt's policy. Therefore, it cannot be well informed as to the disposition of Republican leaders toward a program of which it is admittedly ignorant. Neither does it reveal its own definition of "trusts"—possibly because it has no well-defined idea as to what a trust is. In fact, the position of the Republic on the whole subject is not at all clear except as to the point that it hopes Roosevelt and other Republicans will disagree. Meanwhile the president and his advisers will address themselves to the realities of the situation. For such things as are in restraint of trade, if there be any, they will undoubtedly find a remedy. If there are guilty trusts they will suffer. Such legislation as has been effective against restraint of trade has been of Republican origin. If more is needed it will be forthcoming. But President Roosevelt may be depended on not to propose legislation for mere spectacular effect. The Republic mustn't look for it. There will be no difference between him and other Republicans on this point. They stand together, and the prosperous plain people have confidence in them, as the recent elections show.

The Department of Commerce.

The congressional committee which looked into the advisability of creating a department of commerce last winter reported affirmatively and unanimously, but it was too late in the session to take action. Since then the movement for the new department has gained considerable headway. Commercial interests in several of the largest cities are strongly in favor of the erection of a branch of the government devoted exclusively to commercial interests, whose head shall be a member of the cabinet. Some Philadelphia citizens have gone so far as to suggest one of their number to be the first secretary of commerce, John H. Converse, a well-known manufacturer and philanthropist.

The rapid expansion of American trade makes the demand for a department of commerce not unreasonable. Such a department would seem to have as much reason for its being as the department of agriculture. The chief difficulty in the organization of the new department would be in the selection of the bureaus for transfer from the old departments to the new one. It may be doubted if it would be wise, as some suggest, to place the consuls under the care of the new department. It is true that they deal largely with commercial matters and make reports concerning trade, but their duties are not confined to business. They are accredited to foreign countries by the state department and their duties are frequently of a diplomatic nature. It would be wise not to disturb the present relations of the consular service to the state department, while their business reports could be turned over to the department of commerce for distribution and such other use as that department could make of them. The fact should not be lost sight of, either, that the state department needs the information and expects advice of its consuls who have become familiar with foreign commerce in the preparation of commercial treaties. The department of commerce should have the oversight of trade in the same way that the department of agriculture keeps informed on farming affairs, but the consular representatives of the government in foreign countries should still be attached to the state department.

Reciprocity Vs. Free Trade.

One does not expect friendly concern for Republican policies from the Baltimore Sun. It is therefore more or less amusing to find it thus early showing dissatisfaction that there is little prospect of Republicans making a deep plunge into the ocean of tariff revision. The Sun, apparently, chooses to interpret the last public speech of President McKinley as an "about face," and begins to reproach Republican leaders for indisposition to make the protective tariff look small. The Sun may be entirely honest in its expression, but if so it is misled by its own desire for tariff reductions. President McKinley announced no new Republican policy; he simply laid stress on one that is well established. He did not move in the direction of free trade. Far from it, he made it clear that he would not sacrifice any needed protection of any American industry. But if the Republican policy of protection has made any American industry so strong that it can stand alone, or can stand with less assistance, he was ready to trade the measure of protection that had been rendered unnecessary for a market for American products. The reciprocity advocated by McKinley is an extension of the Republican policy of fostering American prosperity. It differs materially from the Democratic idea of reciprocity advocated by our Baltimore contemporary. The Democratic idea is free trade, pure and simple; to cultivate foreign commerce by lowering the tariff. This is a jug-handled style of reciprocity that Republicans do not favor. Like all other Republicans, McKinley was against it. His policy, always, was to make his country strong; not to strengthen others at his country's expense.

A Federal Office for a Negro.

President Roosevelt has done it again. He has appointed a colored man to office. Furthermore it is a life office that is conferred upon a negro. Moreover, the man did not ask for the place. Mr. Roosevelt and the office sought the man and found him. Robert H. Terrell has been appointed a justice of the peace in the District of Columbia. The district has a large colored population, and it is only fair that the negroes should have a magistrate of their own race, when a man like Mr. Terrell, a Harvard graduate and an educator of sufficiently high attainments to enable him to serve satisfactorily as principal of the colored high school of the district, is available for the place.

But the late objectors to the dinner given by President Roosevelt to Booker T. Washington will not be happy over it. They will think it is bad enough to eat dinner with a negro, but infinitely worse to confer an office upon one while so many white men are anxious to aid in the conduct of the government. And it will not console them one bit, either, to learn that it was Booker T. Washington himself who brought Robert H. Terrell to the president's notice and vouched for his attainments.

Elimination of Bryanism.

William Jennings Bryan, for some time dictator of the policies of the Democratic party, has been endeavoring to extract consolation from the returns of the recent elections, but not a crumb of comfort has rewarded his patient search. Hence the following wail in this week's issue of the Commoner, in the sanctum of which the great defeated has sought refuge from the chilling blasts of political adversity:

> In Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, where the conventions failed to reaffirm the Kansas City platform, the Republicans won. In Massachusetts, Iowa and Nebraska, where the conventions did reaffirm the Kansas City platform, the Republicans also won.

It has long been evident to all but Mr. Bryan that Bryanism has ceased to be a factor in the politics of the nation. Its elimination has been gradual, but none the less certain in its progress, state after state recognized as Democratic breaking away from the leadership of the Nebraskan, and their example being followed by the Democratic organizations in Republican states. Although Bryan must have been aware that the ground was thus being cut from under him he preferred to close his eyes to the decrease in his following and kept up the pretense of leadership. Fondly hugging the delusion that he was the Moses of the Democracy he continued to exhort or scold as suggested by circumstances, ever harping on the virtues and glories of the Chicago and Kansas City platforms. Facts are facts, however, and at last Bryan has confessed, perhaps unwittingly, that his theories and hobbies have been effectually turned down by the people.

The Democrats who indorsed the Kansas City platform having been defeated as easily as were those who refused to reaffirm that platform, it follows that Bryanism has received its quietus, and all that now remains for Mr. Bryan is to eliminate himself from the field of national politics and be content with following where others lead.

Boys' Brigade Chooses Wisely.

The Gazette has heretofore indorsed the Boys' Brigade as a beneficial institution. It has now vindicated our good opinion by its display of wisdom in moving the headquarters of the organization from Chicago to Pittsburgh and electing Col. H. B. Bope to be commander-in-chief. Pittsburgh's central location and other advantages appealed strongly to the members. So many good influences have their source here that the city was felt to be just the place from which the Boys' Brigade could spread out to larger usefulness. Its choice for commander-in-chief is one of our most progressive citizens, and while we congratulate him on the compliment of his selection, we congratulate the organization on securing so excellent a chief executive.

It is thought that Abdul Hamid will be shrewd enough to save sufficient money from the French assault upon his treasury to buy a Thanksgiving turkey.

The new Alabama constitution contents itself with taking the colored man's vote away from him. The further work of repression is left to lynching bees.

No official statement to that effect has been made, but we suppose the Hon. J. Hampton Hoge, of Virginia, has been dug out of the debris by this time.

The Chinese question comes in very handy for those statesmen and organs who were left without a job by the late election.

If D. B. Hill would only consent to talk what a fine reason Croker would have for hastening his departure.

The Thanksgiving turkey, we trust, fully appreciates the growing seriousness of the situation.

The shooting stars failed to shoot.

Life in a Great City.

From the Chicago Tribune.

"Henry," said Uncle Amos, from Upcreek, who was visiting his city nephew, "who's that man in the house on the other side of the street? Every morning he stands in front of a window an' shaves himself. He's done it now for three days, hand runnin'."

"I suppose he has done it every morning for the last ten years, uncle," replied Henry.

"Has he lived there all that time?"

"Yes, and longer than that, for all I know. I've been here only ten years myself."

"Who is he?"

"I don't know."

"What does he foller?"

"I haven't the slightest idea, uncle."

Uncle Amos put on his hat and went out. In an hour or two he returned.

"Henry," he said, "that chap's name is Horton. He runs an insurance office downtown. He's worth about $27,000, owns that house an' lot, belongs to the Presbyterian church, has three boys an' one girl, an' he's 46 years old. I've found out more about him in an hour than you have in ten years. Blamed if I don't believe livin' in the city makes people stupid."

Gorman an Impossible Candidate.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

Gorman as rebuilder of the Democratic party and presidential candidate is a far more incredible figure than Altgeld, barring his birth, would be in the same imaginary role. When a Democratic tariff bill was before the senate Gorman worked against his party and was supposed to have made a good thing out of sugar. It is with such legislative achievement that his name is associated, while it is never connected by any chance with a principle. The skill which he has developed in looking after Gorman's interests in Maryland may be extolled as something superlative in its kind, but it never carried a national election yet, and it never will. For that object principle is necessary, and conviction in the truth of some cause and belief in the earnestness and honesty of the people. A man whose only hope is to advance his own position and fill his own pockets, and whose methods are those of the fine worker in ward politics, is as impossible as a presidential candidate as a notorious felon would be.

A STROLL THROUGH NEW YORK ON A NOVEMBER DAY.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, NOV. 14.

Of all the pleasant recreations open to the New Yorker, there is none more worth while than a stroll along West Twenty-third street on these brisk November afternoons. The block between Fifth and Sixth avenues is essentially the shopping district. There are others, of course—up Fifth avenue, down Sixth avenue, in Broadway and over on Grand street east of the Bowery; but it is in Twenty-third that one may see the shoppers par excellence, particularly the young women, with their long, free stride telling of days on the golf links or in the woods with a gun on the shoulder, a straight following of the hounds, of fencing, of swimming, of mountain climbing, of the thousand and one exercises that make up the daily life of the typical American girl whose father's check book is always at her command. These are the kind of women one could see in Twenty-third street this afternoon. There was a stiff gale blowing that rumpled their draperies, showed their daintily-clad feet striding along with a firm step that brought the rich crimson into their cheeks and added to the sparkle of their eyes through their veils. It was just the kind of afternoon for a healthy young woman to be out, and she was there by the hundred. She walked as if she enjoyed the tussle with the cold winds, and there is every reason to suppose she did. She dropped into drygoods stores, with their inviting show windows, at intervals, and swooped down upon the department she wanted, ordered her purchases, but was soon out in the wind again, her silk skirts rustling in the hurly-burly of breezes and her arms swinging as if she were squaring off at the elements. The stout independence of the American girl is never more forcibly shown than when she is making her way along on a windy day. She breasts the blast so gallantly, and smiles so defiantly in the teeth of the hurricane, that a man stands and watches her in mingled pride and admiration, even while his teeth chatter with the cold. And then he turns from the contemplation of this inspiring picture to the absurd spectacle of a fat policeman blocking traffic while he lectured a meek hackman at length for not obeying instantly the command to stop.

Toy Moses Peddled on Street.

A diminutive Moses in the bulrushes is the newest toy to be observed along the curbstone. The rushes have been formed into a basket, and in it is a very small baby with nothing on, holding up his hands and feet in traditional infantile fashion. Many women buy it because it is "cute." The stout, sharp-eyed chap selling it keeps up a perpetual cry of "The b-a-a-a-by in the water, only a dime," and he gathers in dimes as fast as he can pack his wares and take money.

Evidences of Up-State Winter.

Although it was bright and clear in New York city all day, there were not wanting suggestions of wintry weather. Some of the trains that came in from up the state were packed with snow on the roofs, while long icicles hung down the sides. They had come from the region where there was a violent snowstorm yesterday and early this morning, and they brought the evidences of it with them. There was a slight flurry of snow here early this morning, lasting about twenty minutes; but it soon evaporated. It was the second snowfall of the season, the first coming a week or two ago for a few minutes.

Two Ex-Governors on Molineux Case.

The great show in New York today was the argument of two ex-governors of the state of New York as opposing counsel on the motion of Roland B. Molineux that the indictment against him for the murder of Kate Adams be quashed. Unhappily for the curiosity-mongers, the doors of the court room were closely guarded by policemen, and only persons concerned in the case and newspaper men were allowed to go in. The crush at the entrance before the proceedings began was terrific. Most of the disturbers knew that they would not be admitted, but they were willing to take chances of slipping into the court room when the officers were not looking; but the officers always were looking, and long before court opened there was a general hustling away of the "dead wood" around the entrance, as one policeman called it. Whatever Gov. Hill and Gov. Black had to advance was not disturbed by the presence of the rabble, and the whole proceeding, upon which so much depends for Molineux, was conducted in a prosaic, commonplace manner, with an entire absence of dramatic effect.

Short Work of a Strike.

John W. Keller, commissioner of charities, has a short and sharp way of putting down rebellion among employes of his department. There was mutiny on board the steamer Thomas F. Brennan, which runs between Manhattan and Blackwell's island, this morning. The crew of 18 men refused to load the steamer with milk, eatables and other articles required for the public institutions on the island, their cause of complaint being that their rations were not up to the standard. They asserted that they did not get enough meat, for one thing. When Keller heard of it he merely ordered: "Fire the whole gang and man the steamer with prisoners." This was done and the strike fell through there and then.

Jerome's Sunday Saloon Idea Opposed.

If Justice Jerome's proposition to open saloons in New York during certain hours on Sundays is carried out it will not be without considerable opposition. Gov. Odell was in New York last night and this morning, and it is understood that the main purpose of his visit was to talk over the matter of Sunday opening with Senator Platt and other prominent Republicans. Platt is opposed to Sunday opening, and the governor has not said that he approves it. The American Sabbath union, which represents 14 evangelical organizations, is uncompromisingly opposed to it, as announced again this afternoon. The committee in charge of the matter had a meeting this afternoon, and the statement was made that the union will strenuously oppose the opening of saloons on Sundays.

Schooners Still Prevent Gun Test.

If this westerly gale does not disperse soon it may be many days before the big Gathmann gun will be tested at Sandy Hook. There is a large fleet of schooners at anchor near the proving grounds, their skippers being afraid to move while the gale lasts. They are right in the way of the gun and it is impossible to discharge it while they are there. A large number of army and navy officers were taken to the Hook today, but after shivering in the biting blast for an hour or two they realized that a test of the gun would not be possible today and they came back to the city. There will be another attempt to make the test tomorrow.

Devery Himself Again.

Deputy Commissioner Devery presided at the police trials at headquarters today and he did not seem sick, either. It was his first public appearance since election, and there was much curiosity as to how he would bear himself on the bench—whether he would be severe or lenient. He flew into a passion against about 30 patrolmen who were brought before him because they did not pay tailors' bills. He fined them heavily, and then, just as they were filing out disconsolately, he took off one at the attitude of the tailor who had made the complaints to be made, and revoking all the fines told the tailor to get his money the best way he could by civil process. He would not say any more about it, declaring the case closed. Then he blew out of the room in a tempest of his own raising. The whole proceeding was characteristic of Devery, and the policemen all agreed that "the old man is himself again."

A Newspaper's Hundredth Birthday.

Workmen were busy today decking the office of the Evening Post with evergreens and other decorations. Among the features are about 600 red incandescent lamps and many yards of red bunting. The combined effect of red and green is very beautiful. The reason is that the paper will be 100 years old on Saturday and the centennial is to be observed by an extra sized issue. It is only occasionally that a real old paper can be found in New York, most of them having seen considerably less than a century of existence.

Wind Cars Placed in Storage.

It is evident that Pittsburghers and others who want to reach upper Broadway from the Twenty-third street ferry station of the Pennsylvania railroad, when they come to New York, will continue to travel by the antiquated horse-cars on the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth street line. The "wind cars" which used to be run over that line were carted up to Harlem today. They have not been used on the road for some months, being found unequal to the traffic. There were 20 cars on the service, and they carried about 20,000 passengers a day, it is said. The air motors broke down under the strain and the Metropolitan Traction Company gave up the use of the cars. It was thought possible that the wind cars would be put on again soon, but the placing of them in storage in the car barns in Harlem Flats suggests that they will not be brought out for the winter, at least.

Lulu Glaser's Aspirations.

Lulu Glaser, who is touring the country in her new operetta, "Dolly Varden," will be seen in a Broadway theater probably before Christmas, it is thought. The little Pittsburgh prima donna has been unfortunate in her plays in New York since leaving Francis Wilson's company, but she has been so successful with "Doly Varden" outside of this city, that it is believed she would be a good paying attraction in a playhouse in the great white light district. Until she gets the hall mark of a Broadway opening on her entertainment, she will not be satisfied with it. Whether a New York run carries any weight with the playgoers of other cities or not, certain it is that stars and managers alike generally hanker for it with a loud and robustious hank.

Regret Over Mapleson's Death.

The Rialto had a subject of sad comment before it today, when the announcement was cabled over that Col. Henry Mapleson had died in London of Bright's disease. While this Mapleson was not so well known in New York as the original great and only Col. J. H., the younger man was familiar to a great many persons here. He had often visited this country and had always been hail-fellow-well-met with the theatrical crowd here. He understood as much about Italian opera as any one here today, and was an enthusiast in his business, just as was his father before him.

Mayor Van Wyck Defends a Quibble.

Mayor Van Wyck is loyal to Tammany hall in spite of the ungrateful way he was cast to the winds by Tammanyites on the 5th of this month. He delivered himself of a few sentiments at the meeting of the board of estimate this afternoon, that being his favorite theater for display of his views. He took up the matter of the board's transfer of 5,100 Tammany employes to the bureaus in charge of the borough presidents-elect. This action of the board was severely criticised on all sides. The peppery mayor said today that while charges of trickery had been made, the board acted in accordance with law. Then he made a long statement, in which he quoted from sections of the city charter to prove his point. And yet the upshot of the whole thing, in the opinion of men whose opinions are received with respect, is that there has been a quibble, and that Tammany has saddled upon the incoming administration more than 5,000 men who, in the name of common courtesy, might well have been left to take their chances under Mayor Low.

Temperance Lecture to Firemen.

Trials of firemen took place today at fire headquarters, but the proceedings lacked the blustering character that has often distinguished the trials of policemen. One fireman, who has only nine month longer to serve before he will be able to retire at the end of 20 years' service with a pension, was under fire for drinking. He promised to give up the habit and the case was dismissed. After he had gone, Deputy Commissioner Scully made a few observations that, perhaps, might be applied in a general way to some of the brave fellows in the Pittsburgh fire department, although I do not know that it is the case. Said Mr. Scully: "I have seen that man sit a great number of fires in Brooklyn. He is brave—exceedingly brave. In my experience in the department, I have found it almost invariably true that the men who come up for trial are the men who risk their lives most in the discharge of their duty. The same recklessness which makes them such superb fire-fighters, seems to crop out in the form of foolishness with regard to drinking or infraction of the rules. This is particularly true of the hardest drinkers in the department."

TO AVERT A WAR.

Meeting at Columbus Yesterday May Have Solved a Delicate Problem. Had an All Day Session at the Chittenden Hotel.

Representatives of the independent window glass manufacturers of the country, those outside of the three combines, after an all-day session at the Chittenden hotel in Columbus, O., yesterday, decided to join issues with the Federation Co-Operative Window Glass Company—the combine recently formed by the co-operative companies—for mutual protection against the two big combinations, the American and the Independent Window Glass Companies. The independents' organization will be separate, but the plans were laid for a community of interest with the co-operatives. The independents assume the two big combines of having entered on a campaign to drive them out of business.

Arrangements were made to submit to the American and Independent Glass Companies, when their representatives meet the National Window Glass Jobbers' Association at Chicago next Tuesday, a proposition for a pool on prices, to be participated in by all manufacturers. Meantime the new organization will establish a selling agency, which shall also have charge of the purchase of raw material.

The action of the Columbus meeting will do much toward averting the fight in the window glass trade that until yesterday seemed inevitable. The two big combines and the co-operatives and independents are all prepared to throw an immense amount of stock upon the market and if a truce is not fixed up at the Chicago meeting the year of peace in the trade will come to a sudden end. Yesterday's meeting was attended by operaters representing a total capacity of 515 pots. W. L. Linhard was present as a representative of the Co-Operative Company, which is willing to take the independents under its protecting wing. It contains 18 co-operative factories, with a total of 350 pots. By agreement with the American and Independent combines its entire production, limited to 20,000 boxes per month, goes to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, the two older combinations dividing the balance of the Jobbers' Association orders.

Yesterday's Columbus meeting was presided over by George Headley of Pendleton, Ind. W. L. Linhard of Muncie, Ind., represented the co-operatives' combination, and urged the necessity of organizing. Such a combination would hold the balance of power, the co-operatives claim, over the older combines.

Leopold Mansburg, of Muncie, Ind., president of the Co-Operative Federation, who was in Pittsburgh on business yesterday, admitted that a fight was possible the coming season, though the co-operatives were doing all in their power to prevent it. "We want the independents," he said, "to come into some one of the three combinations, which one we do not much care, if they mean to secure their share of the market and get recognition for themselves before the jobbers place the coming order. If they do not act now they will be the troublesome element in the trade the coming season."

FOUNDERS ELECT OFFICERS.

Pittsburgh Man Is Chairman of the Third District.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—At today's session of the National Founders' association, President Henry W. Hoyt of Chicago and Secretary John A. Mr. Penton, who was re-elected as the secretary, was also made commissioner of the association, an office which invests him with the power of full authority to act for the association in all matters coming before it. This power was formerly divided between the president and secretary of the association.

District committees of the association were elected as follows:

PERSONAL.

Pittsburgh is at the present time enjoying unprecedented prosperity in its general mercantile trade. President C. Dernburg of the Dernburg Dress Sale Manufacturing Company, was a passenger on the Pennsylvania limited for Chicago last night. "The wholesale merchants throughout the country," he said, "are experiencing far and away the biggest business ever known. In my 20 years of travel about the country I have never known anything to even approach this year's trade in magnitude. Pittsburgh is doing the greatest business of the country and as the banner business town, of the union. I was told at large department stores in this city that last Saturday's trade was 50 per cent the largest day's business ever known, holiday seasons and all."

E. C. McGraw, the president of the local company that has been operating a copper claim in Bingham county, Utah, near the famous Highland Boy mine, received a telegram yesterday stating that a vein 40 feet wide and 15 feet deep had been struck, assaying $46 to the ton. Mr. McGraw, who is the proprietor of the American house, will leave in a few days to superintend more extensive operations and the company will shortly be incorporated under the name of the Copper King Mining Company.

W. G. Andrews, representing one of the large wholesale jewelry houses of New York, was a passenger east last night on the Pennsylvania limited. He says that there is an unusual tone of cheerfulness in the western states. There is no talk of free silver to be heard anywhere and merchants do not ask for the usual terms of 90 days and even five months, as was once frequently the case.

G. H. Wellinger, councilman from the Twenty-fifth ward, attracted attention last night as he strode through the Union station loaded down with the results of a two days' hunting trip in Mercer county. Mr. Wellinger had with him last night 20 rabbits, 14 pheasants, 8 quail, and one duck.

D. F. Marcney, the late general superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio, left for Baltimore last night, on a visit to old friends. Mr. Maroney was for 30 years stationed in Baltimore.

POINTERS FOR A PALACE.

Chief Engineer for the New Imperial Residence at Tokyo in Pittsburgh Getting Ideas.

N. Yamamoto, engineer to the palace of his imperial highness, the crown prince of Japan, at Tokyo, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday forenoon. He is on a tour of America to inspect builders' methods here in the installation of heating, lighting, ventilating, plumbing and sanitary equipments in modern buildings, preparatory to superintending that part of the work at the new palace. He was entertained by Prick building yesterday, and visited a number of local architects and builders, and will go from here to New York. He will not return to Japan until February of next year.

The new imperial residence of the crown prince of Japan has been in course of erection for three years, and will not be completed for perhaps four or five years more. It is a magnificent granite structure, 900x500 feet, built on modern lines, the architecture being Italian Renaissance style. Much American steel has been used in its construction, 4,000 tons having been furnished by the Carnegie Steel Company.

The great building is now under roof and that is the last stage of the work of the contracts let for the plumbing, heating and sanitary equipment, not before it is installed. Mr. Yamamoto wishes to look into the methods of the American builders.

"As far as possible," said Mr. Yamamoto, "the work on the new palace to Japanese contractors, though in a number of cases it was necessary to go to foreigners to get the work done. The architect's official estimate of the cost of the new palace was 5,000,000 yens, or $2,500,000 American money. The greatest part of the time will be consumed in the interior decorations. The work is all designed by the imperial architect, M. Katayama, who is an artist of no mean ability."

Mr. Yamamoto spent an hour in a tour of The Gazette's new home last night. Inspecting every department of the paper's equipment with the greatest interest, and expressing his wonder and delight at what he saw.

RAISE COMING TO PUDDLERS.

Probable Result of First Monthly Wage Settlement Since the Strike.

The first bi-monthly wage settlement since the strike for the iron, steel and tin workers, under the scale of the Amalgamated association, will probably be made by the representatives of the association with the Republic Iron and Steel Company, the American Sheet Steel Company, and the American Tin Plate Company, early next week. The puddlers and the finishers will both secure an advance, it is thought.

Since the strike, the mills of the sheet steel and tin plate companies have been working under the settlement of last May, there having been, therefore, no bi-monthly settlements during the strike. Workmen in the independent mills have also been able to secure no advance on the basis of the high prices paid for steel and iron during the struggle, the prices for all being regulated by the examination of the sales sheets of the big Morgan companies, except in the case of the puddlers, in which the entire sheets of the Republic govern. Bar iron is still much higher that before the strike, and the puddlers will probably receive an advance of 25 cents a ton, and the finishers an increase of 2 per cent.

AN IDLE DAY.

This day will I cast off the coil
Of aging worry and of toil,
And seek the soothing soul-caress
Of idleness.

For sometimes it is well to be
Both body-free and spirit-free,
To own no spring, no clustering wall,
No thrall at all.

The harper wind strides o'er the hills
His truant will I make my will;
Two jovial comrades, forth we ride
Beneath the sky.

We letter, who shall cry us "nay"?
We hasten; who shall bid us stay?
By stream or woodland-side we bend,
As suits our mood.

And oh, the golden grain I reap
From this one long, from this one deep
Day-dwelling, in the dream-duress
Of idleness!

I slough the husk of discontent,
And feel no longer fledged and pent;
I look on all that round me lies
With sunny eyes.

I gather from the bounteous earth
A quiet joy, an inner mirth,
And life, wherever I pass along,
Seems set to song.

THE STATE PRESS.

If Monongahela river water is so injurious to boilers and machinery, what effect must it have on the human stomach?—Braddock News.

The Ligonier school board has determined that children of school age shall attend school in accordance with the requirements of the law. W. M. Nicely has been elected truant officer and the committee having the matter in charge will see that violators of the law are looked after.—Ligonier Echo.

The Western Angora goat is going to be eaten, but it has not decided whether it will be mutton or venison. Venison is a little more recherche than mutton, and a section of the country which produces excellent cayuse beef surely ought to be able to make venison out of the bold and debonair billy-goat.—Lancaster News.

The turnkey of the Duquesne lockup has a level head. Not wishing to have his hostelrie overcrowded during the winter with a choice collection of bums, he posted in a conspicuous place the following: "Wanted—One hundred men at the county workhouse to break stone." Few tramps have nerve enough to face such a glaring danger signal as that.—McKeesport News.

We don't wonder much that a school board in the vicinity of Kittanning, in this state, has a strike of school teachers on its hands. Think of educated men and women of long experience in school work being compelled to serve for the mere pittance of $30 a month. It's a disgrace to the township and to the state.—Pittston Gazette.

In computing the vote of Lehigh county the clerks came across a number of ballots that were cast by jokers for some of their friends. Judge Albright became indignant at this misuse of the franchise, and ordered all these votes to be thrown out of the count, and proceeded to give his opinion of the men who appreciated their rights as citizens so slightly as to make them the sport of their foolish fancies.—Reading Times and Dispatch.

There is less talk, nowadays, of the soulless corporation. Little affairs such as transpired in the parlors of the Logan house last Monday night, when three brave railroaders were given substantial reward for conspicuous bravery, tend to expel such thoughts from the minds of the people. We are gradually coming to know that real merit will gain its recognition and its reward in spite of the tendency toward concrete management of amalgamated business interests.—Altoona Gazette.

Not so long ago the Pennsylvania board of pardons set loose a man named Thomas O'Connor, a notorious burglar, because he was "dying from consumption." After he got out, however, Mr. O'Connor took a notion he would not die. On the contrary, he returned to burglary, and is now under arrest for entering a residence in Baltimore. Evidently either the pardon board erred or else O'Connor is the sort of a man who would rob with one foot in the grave.—Johnstown Tribune.

A gentleman from Parkersburg made us a pleasant call a day or two since, and informed us that according to the late census, reported and taken by home people, the population of Parkersburg was not 32,000. By the end of this week, when another report comes in, it will be 50,000, and by spring they will have about that many million of a population

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO THE GENTLE SEX.

THE twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert DuPuy, Miss Eleanor DuPuy and Miss Amy DuPuy, made their social debut yesterday afternoon. It was a particularly enjoyable affair, and instead of a long line of married women to assist Mrs. DuPuy, there was a score of young girls, the majority of them the social buds of this season. The reception hours were from 4 o'clock until 7, making possible the attendance of a number of men as well as women.

The handsome DuPuy residence in Western avenue, Allegheny, was thrown open to the guests. Its decorations were exceedingly brilliant and unconventional. Two debutantes making their bow to society together, their friends were doubly lavish with their tributes, and scores of bouquets found their way to the twin daughters of the DuPuy home. Bouquets were found throughout the drawing room and the library, while brilliant American Beauty roses and chrysanthemums were arranged in the reception hall. One bouquet after another was carried during the afternoon by the debutantes, who laid one aside, replacing it with another, so that a new note of color was constantly appearing, adding not a little to the pleasing effect of the attractive little group of debutantes. Mrs. DuPuy and her two daughters received together, and standing with them were Mrs. David Hostetter, the grandmother of the debutantes, and Miss Annette Smith. The line of assistants included the Misses Gerdes, Miss Elizabeth Burd Thaw, Miss Gertrude Irwin, Miss Eleanor Painter, Miss Laura McGinley, Miss Alice Walton, Miss Lois Abbott, Miss Anna Macbeth, Miss Marion Chambers, Miss Martha Dalzell, Miss Alice Pennock, Miss Helen Horne, Miss Helen Earl, Miss Marguerite Johnson, Miss Jeannette Clark, Miss Romaine LeMoyne, Miss Ethel Byram and Miss Sallie Speer Dunbar.

The Misses DuPuy were girlishly gowned in white mousseline de soie, trimmed with lace, the bodices with pretty yokes of lace softly finished about the neck, and with dainty elbow sleeves. They are both pretty girls and were educated at St. Margaret's school in Waterbury, Conn. During the past summer they were abroad, going to England to visit their aunt, Lady Jebb, in Cambridge, and visiting other attractive parts of Europe. They are the daughters of Herbert DuPuy, vice president of the Pennsylvania Gas Coal Company.

The reception yesterday afternoon was followed by an informal dinner.

Forsker-Matthews Nuptials.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—One of the prettiest weddings and swellest social functions of the season was the marriage of Miss Florence Forsker, daughter of Senator and Mrs. J. B. Forsker, to Mr. Randolph Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bentley Matthews of this city, which took place at the Church of the Advent, Walnut Hills, this city, today.

The church decorations were white chrysanthemums, and the bride and groom stood under a canopy of the same flowers suspended from the ceiling. The procession was led by a choir of 40 boys, followed by the ushers, bridesmaids, maid of honor and bride, who was escorted by her distinguished father, whom she greatly resembles. Her gown was of rich white satin, with a very long train. The yoke and elbow sleeves were made of rose point lace. The veil was caught with orange blossoms, and the bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. Miss Louise Forsker, the maid of honor, wore a gown of white eclair lace. The other maids were gowns of white crepe de chine and carried showers of pink roses. Merrill Hibbard of Pittsburgh was the best man.

A reception at the Forsker home in Cross Lane followed immediately. The bride's gifts to her maids were pearl crescents. Mr. Matthews gave pearl stick pins to his men. The bride and groom left after the reception for an eastern trip. They will return to Cincinnati early in December and will occupy the house where the Forskers have lived and which Senator Forsker has given to his daughter as a bridal present. Another very beautiful present which he gave her is a diamond crescent. Among the other numerous gifts was a handsome pink shawl from Minister Wu Ting Fang.

Mr. and Mrs. Knable's Card Party.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Knable gave a large card party last evening, at their home in Ellsworth avenue, Shadyside, in honor of Mrs. Knable's debutante sister, Miss Louise Elkins. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Knable and Miss Elkins, were Mrs. James A. Hayes of New York formerly Miss Sue Ewing, daughter of Col. and Mrs. John M. Ewing of this city, and Miss Grommes of Chicago. Euchre was the game played and the card tables were scattered throughout the rooms on the first floor. Flowers, chrysanthemums and roses, appeared in the parlors and the adjoining rooms, while pink roses were in the apartments on the second floor. Refreshments were served informally at the card tables after the conclusion of the game. Eight prizes were given, four for the ladies and four for the gentlemen having the leading scores.

Mrs. Hayes, who shared the honors of the evening with the debutante, came to Pittsburgh to be present at the wedding of her sister, Miss Elizabeth Ewing and John W. McMiller, on Tuesday evening. She returns east this morning, giving but little opportunity to her friends who wished to entertain her during her visit.

Hawkins-Darragh.

Miss Jennie Benton Hawkins, the daughter of the gallant colonel of the Tenth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, Col. A. L. Hawkins, was married last evening at 6 o'clock to Robert Weyland Darragh of Beaver. The wedding took place in the Fifth Presbyterian church, Washington, Pa., and was witnessed by nearly 300 friends of both the bride and bridegroom. The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Moffat. The only attendants besides the best man, a brother of the bridegroom, Daniel Darragh, and the four ushers, Lieut. Frank Hawkins, a brother of the bride, who has seen service in the Philippines; Henry Wilson, Brown Patterson and Dr. Lawrence Sloan of Beaver. The wedding was followed by a reception to the relatives and intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Darragh, which was given at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. L. Hawkins in Wade avenue. The couple took a late train east and will spend a portion of the honeymoon in New York. After January 15 they will be at home on Thursdays, in Beaver, Pa.

St. Xavier's Alumnae Meeting.

A meeting of the alumnae association of St. Xavier's academy, near Latrobe, was held yesterday. It was a reunion and meeting and was attended by a large number of the former students of St. Xavier's. No election of officers took place, but important business of the association was transacted. A large number of the members have been in retirement during the last three days at St. Xavier's convent spending the time in solitary meditation and the reading of religious books, and their return to the world yesterday was attended with a renewal of social activity. The biennial election of officers of the alumnae association will take place next October. Mrs. Heyl of the East End is president; Miss Donnelly is secretary and others prominent in the association are Mrs. William Hoeveler, Mrs. Baum, Miss Vilsack and Mrs. William Van Buren.

First Day of Whist Tournament.

The first round of the three days' whist tournament under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Whist league was played yesterday afternoon at the Twentieth Century club. As a result of the first round the team, consisting of Miss Guthrie, captain; Mrs. O. D. Thompson, Miss Childs and Miss Reed, is in first place, having defeated every other team and making 15 tricks play. Mrs. Little, Mrs. Thomas B. McKaig, Mrs. George T. Clarkson and Mrs. Helsey Williams compose the team in the second place. Mrs. O. D. Thompson and Miss Guthrie made a splendid score yesterday afternoon, winning 15—north and south. Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Adair won the score 6—east and west.

The second round will be played this afternoon. The prize offered in this tournament is a silver trophy presented by Mrs. Charles L. Taylor, president of the Pittsburgh Whist league, together with four pins to be worn by the members of the winning team. The whist clubs in the league are the Duquesne, the Twentieth Century, the Allegheny, Sewickley, Monday Afternoon and the Pittsburgh Whist clubs.

Kirk-Post.

A very handsome home wedding solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock was the marriage of Miss Clara Baldwin Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Kirk, and Dr. Frank S. Post. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alfred Nicholson, pastor of the East End Presbyterian church, at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Post, in East End avenue. Though simply conducted the wedding was attended with handsome appointments. The bride was unattended. She wore a very beautiful gown of white satin trimmed with exquisite lace. There was neither a best man nor ushers.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Kirk, whose home, Colonia, is one of the handsomest residences in Oakland. It was recently sold and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk only waited until after the wedding of their daughter to start on a long tour of foreign countries. They go in a few days to San Francisco and thence almost directly to Japan, where they will spend some months. Before their return they will visit other countries in the orient.

Speer-Boal.

In Canonsburg yesterday, at noon, occurred the wedding of Miss Martha Drennen Speer of that place and Archibald Gill Boal of this city. The guests were the members of the two families. The ceremony was performed at the residence of an uncle of the bride, Dr. A. L. Ronlon, by the bride's father, the Rev. J. S. Speer, D. D., Cambridge, O. It was a very pretty affair and after the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Boal left for Pittsburgh, arriving here last evening. They went immediately to their new home in Mathilda street, East End. Mr. Boal is connected with the writing staff of the Pittsburgh Post. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Boal of New Brighton.

A Women's Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions will be held Tuesday, November 19, at St. Andrew's church, Ninth street. Addresses will be delivered by the Right Rev. Lucien L. Kinsolving, D. D., Bishop of Brazil, the Right Rev. Peter Rous, D. D., bishop of Alaska, the Rev. Andrew Bard of Walla Walla, and Miss Sybil Carter, deaconess and missionary among the Indians of the west. A short business meeting, when election of officers will take place, will follow luncheon. In the evening at 7:45 at Trinity church there will be a missionary mass meeting.

Wedding Cards.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ralston of Wilkinsburg have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Bertha Mae Ralston and George A. McClure. It will be a home wedding at the residence of the bride's parents in Ross avenue, Wilkinsburg, on Wednesday evening, November 27, at 8 o'clock. The at home days will be after December 10, at the home of the bride's parents, where Mr. McClure and his bride will reside. Miss Ralston is the soprano soloist in the Presbyterian church of Wilkinsburg.

Rogers-Robertson.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Belle Gray Rogers, to George K. Robertson took place yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, East End, the Rev. Robert M. Russell officiating. The young people are both well known in the East End. Immediately after the ceremony they left for a brief wedding trip. They will be at home to their friends on Thursdays in December.

An Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Courtney of Sheffield street, Allegheny, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Effie North Courtney, and W. Frank Fondersmith of this city.

SORE NECK

Take Scott's Emulsion for scrofula. Children often have sores on the neck that won't heal up. The sores may come and go. Parents may not know what's the matter nor what to do. Scrofula is the trouble and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine.

Scott's Emulsion heals the sores. But that is not all. Scrofula leads to consumption. This is the real danger.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL.

has occasion to record today that fur collars and muffs are decidedly the most becoming accessories a girl can carry. All the collars are dark this season, and when drawn close against very rosy cheeks, they enhance feminine beauty to the highest degree, while even the fan cannot boast of more coquetry than a dainty muff deftly handled.

A Doll-Like Maiden,

whose blue eyes are her great charm, invariably wears a string of blue beads around her throat and something black and lacy near it. The beads were formerly of common glass, but the Beauty's father is now reckoned in the millionaire class, and my dainty dolly has real turquoise for her necklace. Some of the other girls laugh at her and call it affectation when she refers tenderly to her mascot, but it is a most becoming touch and one which other blue-eyed maids might profitably copy.

A Thanksgiving Supper

designed to fill up an evening of family reunion, and not to be too heavy after the festival dinner, will consist of a dainty salad, a few thin slices of cold turkey laid between paper-like oatmeal wafers, and a big dish of "surprise fruit." This is the feature of the affair, and will consist of a number of fruits whose natures admit of hollowing out, the hollows to be filled with caramel, sugared nut meat, chopped fruit of another variety, and so on. For instance a big yellow orange will have a center of clear sugar, moistened with port wine; a pear will have its center stuffed with euchred peaches chopped fine, and rosy checked apples will be mere shells for a compact and toothsome mass of hickory nut kernals.

The Dancing Shoe

in highest favor just now is of patent leather, very high and impertinent as to instep and very pointed as to toe. Square buckles of gold, silver or jet add to the grace of the pretty thing, while the high heels may be French or Cuban with equal smartness.

A Young Lover

had a pretty sentiment put in his sweetheart's ring recently:

"Dearest of all to me,
Wife, angel, and queen you'll be."

This is only the engagement ring but the wedding ring which will make its appearance some time in January will have something equally pretty.

Swagger Girls

now write their brief notes on wide, short paper sheets, which fit the envelope without folding. One original miss showed me a box of "hemstitched paper" yesterday, all in white, cream and pale rose. "For congratulations," she told me, and I wondered what fashion will do next.

A Clever Girl

in Allegheny made herself a charmingly original dresser set the other day out of an ordinary white enameled supply. Across the back of the brush she traced a graceful scroll or two and wrote her name. On the broad edge of the comb she put her name in tiny letters and on each of the smaller articles she wrote her name or the initial letter, as space permitted. She then burnt the tracery out with a sharp-pointed bit of iron heated in a blue flame. The brown burnt part contrasts beautifully with the white surface of the previous finish and all her friends envy her exceedingly.

Alleged Ment Thieves Arrested.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Eagerly awaiting the completion of an ox roast a gang of alleged cattle and meat thieves were surprised this afternoon and three arrests followed. Last night thieves entered the slaughter house of E. U. Hetzel and stripped the best cuts from several beeves. Officers went to the house of Tilden Buttermore on the mountain side where the men were cooking the meat. Those arrested are Tilden Buttermore, Benjamin Miller and Benjamin Johnson.

CHAMPION LET UP ON HIS BOXING

He Is Said to Be in Better Condition Than Ever Before--Ruhlin Is in Prime Shape--Many Visitors Are Crowding Into 'Frisco.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The pugilistic championship will have been settled by the time the readers of The Gazette receive their papers on Saturday morning. All is in readiness for the big battle in this city tomorrow night at the Mechanics Pavilion, under the auspices of the Twentieth Century Athletic Club. Both fighters are as confident as any two men could be. They have trained with absolute faithfulness, feel strong, well and perfectly fit and each expresses a certainty of being crowned a victor.

Betting on the big fight is not at all heavy. In fact, up to this time it is very slow. Ruhlin money is scarce at two to one, odds of ten to four being held out for. In Oakland today Jeffries concluded his training. There is no gainsaying but that the big heavyweight is in better form than ever before in his life. He did no boxing today, and as the impression went abroad that he would not do any work today, there were but few visitors. During the past several days and since he has cut out all heavy work, Jeff has gained in weight. When he stripped this morning he tipped the scale at 212½ pounds, a gain of two and a half pounds over yesterday.

"Yes, the work is all over and now for the fight," said Trainer Delaney this morning. "There never was a fighter more fit for the fray than is Jeffries. He is in about as fine condition as it is possible to get a man, and, barring accidents, I have absolutely no fear for the result. There has been a great deal of talk about Mr. Madden's 'secret method' which he is going to spring tomorrow night. His process does not seem to fool many anyone in this camp, and I think it behooves Mr. Madden to be careful in springing it, as he might meet with a bit of bad luck. The big fellow's friends need have no fear but that he will show himself worthy of their confidence as he will surely win."

Ruhlin passed the day quietly, his only exercise consisting of several jaunts on the road. He was in the best of spirits and there is no question as to his condition. Ruhlin will not leave his training quarters tomorrow evening, when he will come into town shortly before proceeding to the place of battle. He will be attended by Billy Madden, Denver Ed. Martin, Young Gibbs and Charlie Goff. This was weighed in the presence of several witnesses and tipped the scales at 201½ pounds.

Patrons of the prize ring from eastern cities are beginning to reach the city. New York and Chicago have already large delegations on the scene and more are arriving daily. A telegraph order for 50 seats was received yesterday from a party now on the way from Pittsburgh. Another large delegation is on the way from Cincinnati. Two special cars filled with sporting men from Seattle left that city Sunday week, and they will be joined in Portland by another carload. The Los Angeles delegation, over 100 strong, left there yesterday for San Francisco and arrived this evening.

Jeffries today drew $2,000 and gave the commission to Dewitt Van Corser to bet on himself at the best odds obtainable. The betting on the fight is picking up. Considerable money was placed tonight at Corbett's that the fight would not last 10 rounds. Smith was backed by A. D. Spreckles $2,000 to $1,000 on Jeffries. Jeffries won $400 today at the races.

MAGNATE SOMERS' VISIT CAUSED WILD RUMORS.

There was a large sized stir in local baseball circles yesterday when it was learned that C. W. Somers, vice president of the American league, owner of the Boston team, financial backer of several other teams and Ban Johnson's right bower, was in this city.

It did not take long for Mr. Somers' presence here to leak out and in a short time all sorts of rumors were afloat. The first report was that the money man of the American was here to pave the way for a transfer of the Cleveland club to this city and that his business was to call on local men of money who are American league sympathizers and get them interested in the venture. It was also asserted that Mr. Somers had his eye on a site that would make an ideal ball park and had come here to close a deal which had been pending for a long time.

Another report was that the cause of Mr. Somers' trip was a reported weakening on the part of Bobby Wallace and Emmett Heidrick, the St. Louis jumpers, who had been listening to the merry jingle of the coin and were on the fence and ready to jump back again to their old love and Patsy Donovan. These are a few of the rumors and there were as many more as one would stop to listen to.

That Mr. Somers was here is a certainty because his name adorned a section of the Monongahela house register. He got in about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and he departed last evening. It was denied, however, that his visit here had any baseball end to it, and that he merely stopped off to look after some business interests, being en route from Chicago to Boston. Secretary Pulliam of the local club, had not heard of Mr. Somers' visit and said that the American magnate had not called on him during the day. He said, however, that as Mr. Somers was in the coal business in Cleveland that his visit to this city was undoubtedly to look up some coal interests and not baseball. It is not generally known that the American's vice president was born and raised in this city, and while here yesterday he called on some of his boyhood friends.

Pigeon Post, an Outsider at 30 to 1, Surprised the Talent By Beating Lady of the Valley, the Strong First Choice, in the Third Event. The Track Was Fast and Speculation Was Very Brisk.

STARS LOOK FOR A FIERCE GAME

LAFAYETTE'S TEAM IS IN FINE SHAPE FOR THE GAME.

The Easton Eleven Is the Heaviest Aggregation That Has Been Here This Season—Capt. Fultz and His Men Are Ready for a Stern Struggle and the Game Promises to Be a Hot One.

There were times yesterday afternoon when Exposition park was covered with a thin layer of snow, but that did not keep the Homestead football players from indulging in a hard afternoon's practice, preparatory to meeting the strong Lafayette team on Saturday afternoon. The stars will need to be in the best of shape for this game, as the collegians given in fine trim and is coming here prepared to put up the strongest kind of a game.

Word comes from Easton, Pa., that the Lafayette eleven is in much better shape now than when it stacked up against the Philadelphia Stars three weeks ago. At that time many of the college players were in bad shape, as the contest came right after the game with Princeton, when Lafayette held the Tigers down to a single score. It is also a fact that when the Easton eleven faced the Quakers the team still had some strong college elevens to meet, and the coaches did not take a chance on injuring the regular players, so that many of them were kept out of the line up and substitutes put in to do the work. The Quaker team won that game by a score of 23 to 0, and many experts will look for Homestead to run up as large a score.

Capt. Fultz is not making any predictions as to the outcome of the game, but says his men are all in fine shape and will do the best they can. He realizes that his stars will be up against a strong argument, but he has no fear of the outcome. Capt. Fultz has been informed that the Lafayette eleven is in as good condition now as it was the day it lined up against Princeton, and that means a great deal. The stars look for the game to prove to be one of their hardest contests of the season, and in this respect they are not likely to be disappointed.

The Lafayette team will be by far the heaviest aggregation that has visited here this season, so that in the matter of weight, at least, the two teams will be pretty nearly equal. The list of the Easton players follows:

Walter E. Bachman (captain), center. Philipsburg high school, age 21, weight 200 pounds; David D. Cure, fullback, Keystone academy, age 22, weight 183; Charles W. Fultz, halfback, Mansfield State normal, age 22, weight 175; Harry E. Trout, guard, Lykens high school, age 23, weight 190; John E. Ernst, guard, Pottsville high school, age 23, weight 210; Wilbur Clay Stayer, quarter, Altoona high school, age 19, weight 145; Edward Haldeman, end, Central high school, Philadelphia, age 21, weight 171; Walter Haldeman, tackle, Central high school, Philadelphia, age 21, weight 180; Lawrence L. Iseman, halfback, Susquehanna university, age 20, weight 149; David R. Brown, end, Cutler academy, age 23, weight 175; Oscar F. Lamson, tackle, Cutler academy, age 24, weight 185; Frederick Falkner, tackle, Wyoming high school, age 26, weight 170; J. Raub, halfback, Easton academy, age 22, weight 153; Matthew Scammel, fullback, Trenton high school, age 23, weight 178; C. W. Zimmerman, Chambersburg academy, age 20, weight 165; J. W. Sitzer, F. & M. academy, age 19, weight 150; P. Monahan, Easton academy, age 19, weight 175.

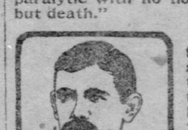
It was announced yesterday that the officials who will preside over the game at Philadelphia on the 23d between the Homestead Stars and Philadelphia Stars had been selected, and they are Edwin B. Young of this city and Carl Williams of Philadelphia. They will make a very strong pair of officials, as both are expert football stars who know the rules of the game from start to finish.

W. U. P.'s season for football is drawing to a close. Only three games remain to be played —Thiel college at Schenley park Saturday, Westminster at Exposition park Wednesday, and Allegheny college at Meadville a week from Saturday. This season has been one of the most successful W. U. P. has ever had, as so far its team has only been scored on once, by Geneva last Saturday. Capt. McConnell certainly deserves credit for the way in which he has kept the players together and the whole team has played the ball.

The Pittsburgh high school football team will play its second game of the year with the Kiskiminetas school team at Saltsburg tomorrow. The schools have always been great rivals, but this year the local eleven was entirely outclassed by the Saltsburg players.

A HELPLESS PARALYTIC

"If I had not found Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer I would now be a helpless paralytic with no hope of anything but death."



BERT STAFFORD Newton, Mich. HELPLESS PARALYTIC CURED BY WHEELER'S NERVE VITALIZER.

The above is the opening paragraph of a letter which is continued below. Such evidence must surely mean something. It means that Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer is a nerve builder pre-eminently superior to any similar preparation ever produced. The letter continues as follows:

"I had three strokes of paralysis, causing me to lose the use of my entire right side, also affecting my stomach so that it would retain but a small amount of bread and milk; any rich food would throw me into violent fits. My heart was also badly affected. My physician told me he had done all he could and if I found anything that would relieve me, to use it. A friend who knew of a similar case benefited by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer, advised me to try it. I have used three bottles of it and am now able to be up and walk around, my leg has regained its use, my stomach is able to retain food and I eat what I wish without injury. The fits have entirely stopped, and I am gaining in health and strength every day. I consider that Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer has saved my life and it is impossible for me to praise it enough. Bert Stafford, Newton, Mich."

Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer will cure Nervous Prostration, Epilepsy and every form of nerve weakness and debility. More proof will be sent to any one making the request.

For sale by druggists, or by express prepaid. $1.00 per bottle, 6 for $5.00.

YALE'S COACHES WERE CAREFUL

No Chances of Injury Were Taken and Team's Practice Was Carefully Watched.

TIGERS SHOWED CLEVER PRACTICE WORK

There Was Less Fumbling and Better All-Around Play--Harvard's Team Given a Rousing Send Off by 3,000 Students.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 14.—The training of the Yale team for the Princeton game practically ended this afternoon. The coaches took the players out to the field and for half an hour put them through tricks and signals. Then there was a brief line-up for practice in punting and catching punts.

The cripples were in better form than they have been in two weeks. The coaches, nevertheless, handled the players with extraordinary care. Before the practice began the coaches cautioned every player not to take any chances and not to throw a man or do anything that might injure him. No attempt was made at rushing the ball. The coaches did not even allow the rushes to make a tackle or to pile up in a scrimmage. Whenever there was a possibility of a scrimmage the coaches yelled "down" and the play was stopped. There has never been so much caution exercised with a Yale team.

After the practice this afternoon Head Coach Hillman said: Yale's line-up Saturday will be as follows: Left end, Gould (Capt.); left tackle, Goss; left guard, Olcott; center, Hart; right guard, Hamlin; right tackle, Hogan; right end, Swan; quarterback, De Saulles; left half back, Hart; right half back, Chadwick; full back, Weymouth.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The Tigers held practice behind closed gates this afternoon. The work consisted mainly of a stiff signal drill and practice in handling and getting down the field under kicks.

An encouraging feature of the practice, however, was the improvement in the way the men stuck to the pigskin. After the way the men fumbled in yesterday's practice, it was a source of considerable satisfaction to the coaches to see the fumbling on the decline. The official lineup as given out by the coaches is as follows: Left end, Davis; left tackle, Pell; left guard, Miller; center, Fisher; right guard, Dana; right tackle, Dewitt; right end, Henry; quarterback, Freeman; right half back, S. McClave; left half back, Foike; full back, Sheffield.

The umpire on Saturday will be Paul Dashiell of Lehigh. The referee will be Edgar N. Wrightington, the former Harvard captain; the linesman will be John Mack of the University of Pennsylvania. The Yale linesmen will be Talcott B. Hull, New Haven. The Princeton linesmen has not been selected.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Harvard's football team was cheered by 3,000 students on Soldiers' Field today, in the biggest demonstration ever given a Crimson eleven before a game with Yale. The object of the demonstration was to urge the team on against Eli's and to give them some idea of the support which they will get when they line up against the Blue next week.

VERONA'S NEW PARK.

Street Car Company Will Build a Fine One.

Unless all signs fail Verona will have a fine athletic field in the spring. The railroad company has begun filling in the old Edgewater park grounds. This left the town without an inclosed field. It is reported that the Pittsburg, Allegheny & Manchester Railway company have about closed a deal for a handsome tract south of Verona, that is on the line of their valley system. It is an ideal place for athletics, and the park will be inclosed by the company. It is also probable that the Allegheny Valley Amateur Baseball league that fell through last spring will be organized this coming season. In the proposed league will be included New Kensington, Freeport, Tarentum, Springdale, Oakmont, Aspinwall, Morningside and probably a team from Wilkinsburg. When the Valley system of street cars is completed all these towns will be in direct communication with each other.

Pleased With Team's Showing.

NEW WILMINGTON, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—After Westminster's showing against W. Va. U. last Saturday the varsity is much encouraged and in better spirits to play their big game here against Geneva on Saturday. Capt. Campbell is putting his team through some hard work this week and expects to make the Geneva game a tough proposition for the winner.

LOOKS FOR MANY JUMPERS.

Jock Menefee Thinks Young American League Players Will Flock to the National.

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Jock Menefee, one of the star twirlers of the Chicago National league team, was in Irwin today and gave out the information that he has affixed his name to a Chicago contract for the coming season at an increase of salary, his contract calling for $2,700.

Speaking of the baseball situation, Menefee said he had no fear of the results of the baseball war, and that when the time came for the American to sign their men for the coming season there will be some surprises. Men who last season had affixed their names to contracts ranging from $150 to $180 a month will not be found so easy this year. "Playing just as good ball as stars of the $400 and $500 per month men has learned these men a lesson, and you will find that when the time comes the line-up of several of the American league teams will be shy." Menefee, with his partner, Harry Rinehart, are now interested in a largs brick plant at East Charleroi, and they expect to have one of the finest plants in the state. The finest machinery is being installed, and they have now on hand orders for more brick than they can fill in the next three months.

NEITHER TEAM SCORED.

Slippery Rock and Grove City Reserves Played a Hot Game.

GROVE CITY, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—In a very interesting game today between the Slippery Rock Normal and the local college Reserves, neither side was able to score. The Reserves had much better team work than the Normals, but the latter's great weight gave them a decided advantage throughout the game, and once they had the ball to the Reserves' two-yard line, when the latter braced up and held them for downs. The best playing was done by Jenkinson, Starr, J. McKown and Johnson. The line-up:

Reserves—0.		Normals—0.
Hale	R. E.	Smith
Elliott	R. T.	Pollet
Sloan	R. G.	Flimmer
Jenkins	C.	Seitz
McElrath	L. G.	McDonald
Jones	L. T.	Laughlin
Cook	L. E.	Ensor
Starr	Q. B.	Scott
Jenkinson	R. H.	J. McKown
Petrie	L. H.	C. McKown
Wilson	F. B.	Johnson

Referee—Lowrey. Umpire—Murphy. Time—15-minute halves.

BOUND FOR ANNAPOLIS.

Wash.-Jeff. Eleven Starts to Do Battle With Middies.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The W. and J. football team this afternoon had the last practice on the home grounds in preparation for the game with the Annapolis cadets on Saturday afternoon. Coach Knight had the varsity and scrub elevens out on the field early, and put them through unusually hard work. It is thought here that the Annapolis game will, next to the Homestead game, be the hardest on the local schedule, and to win W. and J. will be compelled to play first-class football.

The team, accompanied by the management and coaches, left for Pittsburgh tonight, where they will take a train for Annapolis, arriving there tomorrow. Capt. Elken took 18 players, and there will be two sets of tackles, backs and ends ready to play when the game starts on Saturday.

PRESIDENT WILL BE THERE.

Will Watch the Army and Navy Football Struggle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to witness the fierce struggle between the army and the navy, scheduled for November 30 at Philadelphia. He is not expected to be a partisan. His natural inclinations would lend him to cheer on the warriors from West Point, but he will be accompanied by his brother-in-law, Commander Cowles of the navy, who will see that the Annapolis boys are not slighted.

President McKinley was always invited to the annual football game between West Point and Annapolis, but never could arrange to accept.

Schreiber Declared a Professional.

MADISON, WIS., Nov. 14.—The athletic council of the University of Wisconsin has sustained the charge of professionalism against Earl Schreiber, the right guard of the Wisconsin team, and he will not be allowed to play in the game with Minnesota on Saturday.

They Fight to a Draw.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 14.—Ed Heizen of Cumberland and Trix McGoldrick of Johnstown, Pa., fought 10 rounds, catchweight, to a draw at Miller's hall tonight. Frank Conway was referee. Eddie Dailey, who appeared against "Swede" Himmelsbach, struck Conway in preliminaries, will shortly meet Eddie Gardner here.

Only Half of Them Left.

But eleven of the 22 starters in the six-day race remain on the track. The score at midnight was: Cavanaugh, 369-1; Barnes, 369-2; Preston, 364-2; Moran, 357-1; Fogarty, 286-10; Hegelman, 287-16; Loeslein, 282-1; Day, 276-4; Barclay, 234-5; West, 216-16; Miller, 154-17.

THE THREE RIVERS.

(Special to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—A heavy wind blew along the river all day, making navigation hazardous, and especially to the small boats which are now plying. Outside of the regular boats there was no movement today. Stage at 6 p. m., 4.3 feet. Snow flurries.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand; canal, 2.9 feet; falls, 7 inches; foot of locks, 3.8 feet. Business moderate. Clear and pleasant. The Fall City came up the marine ways at Madison today. The Falls City resumes her trips to the Kentucky river tomorrow.

MEMPHIS—River on a stand, with .1 of a foot on the gauge. The big tug McDougall from New Orleans passed up at 4 p. m., bound for Cairo.

PADUCAH—River 1.7 feet, falling. Clear and cooler. The Dunbar left for Cairo. The City of Carrsville went to Elizabethtown today. The Tennessee arrived from the Tennessee river. The Victor left for the Tennessee river after ties. The Bob Dudley arrived today from Evansville. The J. W. Wilde made one trip to Evansville and has laid up.

CAIRO—River 3.2 feet, falling. Pleasant. The W. W. O'Neil departed south at 5 a. m. The Fred Harweg went below at 6:20 a. m. Capt. W. H. Leybe of St. Louis was here today.

WHEELING—River 2 feet 1 inch and falling. Cloudy and cold.

OIL CITY—River 4 feet 2 inches and falling. Cloudy and cool.

GREENSBORO—River 6.1 feet and rising. Cloudy and cool. Cherry down Friday. Woodward up.

WARREN—River 3 feet 3 inches and falling. Snowing.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet and stationary. Cloudy.

STEUBENVILLE—River 2 feet 7 inches and rising. Clear and cold.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary. Cloudy and cold.

PARKERSBURG—River 2.2 feet and rising. Snow this afternoon and tonight. The Bessie Smith left this morning for Wheeling. The H. K. Bedford is to leave tomorrow.

GALLIPOLIS—River 2 feet 5 inches and about stationary. Clear and cold.

POINT PLEASANT—River 1 foot 11 inches and stationary. Snowing. No boats.

ONE BOAT SENT OUT.

The Robert Jenkins Takes a Coal Tow to East Liverpool.

The Allegheny river was stationary last night at Oil City and Parkers Landing. There was 4.5 feet at the former and 5 feet at the latter. The Ohio river at Davis Island dam is rising steadily and at least 6 feet is expected there. The bear trap was opened yesterday and the needles between the wickets were removed.

The coal combination sent the towboat Robert Jenkins to East Liverpool with a tow of 12 flats of coal and this will be the only coal shipment until there is more water. The Fallie, Harry Brown, Enterprise, Dave Wood, Valiant and John Moren were also ordered to come to Pittsburgh. The Fallie will be found in port this morning. The Moren and Valiant are at Letart and will not start up for a day or two. The Joseph R. Williams is at Steubenville and will be brought home. None of the Cincinnati packets have been ordered out. The weather was equally yesterday and it is expected that some snow fell in the mountains.

Departures.

Boats Leaving To-Day.

I. C. Woodward, Morgantown, 3 p. m.
Isaac M. Ann, Brownsville, 4 p. m.
Kathryn, Monongahela, 3 p. m.

Capt. Samuel S. Brown and Col. J. B. Finley are in New York on business.

Capt. Bentley Clark of Freedom was a visitor yesterday. He was looking for a rise.

Harbor No. 25 Masters and Pilots will hold a meeting tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

The W. W. O'Neil has left Cairo for New Orleans to bring north another tow of coal.

The freight line boat Joseph Walton had steam up yesterday testing their machinery.

The Isaac M. Mason is running in the Rose Hite's place, the latter boat having laid up to make a few repairs.

Maj. W. H. Bixby and Capt. W. E. Craigbill, who were in Pittsburgh inspecting river improvements, have returned to their respective offices.

The People's Coal Company has 14 barges of coal loaded to a depth of six feet. They will be sent out if more than seven feet of water comes.

Nothing was heard from the steamer Kanawha yesterday, but the supposition is that the boat will be here next Monday to leave Tuesday for the Kanawha river.

The new and handsome towboat G. W. Thomas, built by Capt. Edward Howard for the People's Coal company, will be ready for service in a week or ten days.

The towboat Oakland, now at Marietta undergoing repairs, it is thought will be able to come to Pittsburgh on the present rise. The People's Coal Company may send for her today.

The new towboat Steel Queen may be able to reach Pittsburgh by Sunday night. The boat is on her way here from Louisville, where she was built, but has been laid up at Mifflesport for several weeks on account of low water.

On account of the bad condition of the Ohio river at Logstown the river coal combination will only allow boats steamboats to take out two lengths of barges or coalboats upon leaving Pittsburgh. This will necessitate doubletripping between those points.

The Rev. J. H. Craig, pastor of the Bellevue Christian church, who, on next Sunday night will preach to the members of Harbor No. 25 Masters and Pilots, has selected as his topic, "Father's at the Helm." Barring a shipping stage of water in the rivers there will be a big turnout of the membership.

Capt. James A. Henderson, president of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet line, went to New York to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the national board of steam navigation, which will formulate plans to present to congress this winter, requesting that body to remove the war stamp tax on bills of lading.

The edict issued by Chief of Police Journee at New Orleans that all the idle negroes would have to leave town, go to work or go to jail, had the desired effect in settling the labor question on the river. Over 200 of the negroes left, but went as roustabouts on the steamboats, shipping on the St. James, Sunrise, Louise, Lafourche and America.

May Pitch in Southern League.

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Tobe Miller, the star twirler of the Arona team, who was given a trial at Altoona with Boston last season by Frank Selee, will probably be found in the ranks of the Southern league next season with Frank Haller's Birmingham (Ala.) team. Miller has been the acknowledged star twirler of the Westmoreland county team for the past two seasons, and should be able to make good in the Southern.

Grandstand Burned.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—The grandstand and betting shed at the Columbus Driving park burned early this morning. The fire is believed to have been incendiary.

Enthusiastic Converts

There Are Thousands of Them Who Believe as This Woman Does.

Mrs. Ira Knowlton of Butte, Mon., is a most enthusiastic convert to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a cure for obstinate stomach trouble. She says: "I had poor digestion nearly all my life. It nows seems to me that for years I never knew what it was to be hungry, to have a good, natural appetite.

"I was troubled with gas in stomach, causing pressure on the heart with palpitation and short breath. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach, sometimes I had cramps in the stomach which almost resembled spasms.

"Doctors did me no good. I took a catarrh of the stomach, but their medicines would not reach it and I would still be a sufferer had I not, in sheer desperation, decided to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I knew they were an advertised remedy and I didn't believe anything I read about them, as I had no confidence in advertised remedies, but my sister, living in Pittsburgh, wrote me last spring telling me how Stuart's Tablets had cured her little daughter of indigestion and loss of flesh and appetite and I hesitated no longer.

"I bought a 50-cent box at my drug store and took two of the large tablets after each meal and found them delightful to take, being as pleasant to the taste as caramel candy

QUAY WANTED ON FINANCES

Protectionists Will Work for His Appointment Upon That Committee.

PROPER MAN TO WATCH TARIFF TINKERERS

They Will Also Urge That the Membership of the House Ways and Means Committee Be Increased by Two—Revenue Views

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 603 Fifteenth St., N. W. WASHINGTON, D. C., NOV. 14.

In the senate there is some wire-pulling going on for the vacancy on the finance committee, due to the retirement of Senator Wolcott. Protectionists are urging that this place be given to Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, especially as Pennsylvania with its many and varied interests has no representative on this committee and has not had for years. Senator Platt, of New York, also desires this place, but as Senator Jones, of Nevada, a member of the committee, recently announced his return to the Republican party, the Democratic senators insist that he be transferred to the Republican side of the committee and the vacancy be given to a Democrat.

As protectionists believe they are in a majority, it is reported here today that a resolution will be introduced in the house early in the session to increase the membership of the ways and means committee from 17 to 19 members. If such a resolution be passed it is said the advocates of a protective tariff will insist that the speaker appoint two men who are in accordance with the views of such advocates of duties as the chairman and Representative Dalzell. If they succeed they will be able to prevent Mr. Babcock and those who believe with him from joining hands with the Democrats and Populists on the ways and means committee and securing a favorable report on the Babcock bill.

As senators and representatives arrive here for the session there is increased talk on the tariff question, and various plans are launched. Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, differs decidedly with Representative Babcock, of the same state, on the subject. While he has not declared against Mr. Babcock's pet scheme of putting steel products on the free list, he favors the creation of a tariff commission to consider the whole subject and to recommend to congress what change if any shall be made. More than this, he declares that he will introduce a bill at the coming session to create the commission.

Representative Boutell, of Chicago, is in favor of repealing all the war taxes at once.

Meanwhile, it is daily apparent that the Quay-Hanna plan of letting well enough alone, and of not meddling with the finance, the tariff or taxes in the coming congress, is the largest number of supporters. Representative Long, of Kansas, who is a member of the ways and means committee of the house, joins with his eastern colleagues on the committee in opposing a revision of the tariff. He believes any attempt to lower the duties on particular schedules, such as Mr. Babcock proposes, would lead inevitably to a general revision of the tariff, and that, he says, his people are not in favor of. Mr. Long says there is a strong sentiment in his section in favor of reciprocity.

Representative Hepburn, of Iowa, chairman of the inter-state and foreign commercial committee of the house, and Representative Sherman, of New York, a leading member of the same committee, had a long conference with the president today about isthmian canal and Pacific cable legislation. As a result of the consultation they announced it is their purpose to press legislation on both subjects at the earliest possible moment.

VERY SKITTISH OF NIPPER DEAL

Arrangement Doesn't Enthuse Wall Street as Financiers Expected.

SUSPICIOUS ABOUT BURLINGTON DELAY

Rail Manufacturers Will Not Raise Prices at Least Until the Railroads Have Placed Their Season's Orders—Gates Defied.

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Wall street's reception of the Northern Pacific settlement must have been something of a surprise to the promoters of the "greatest community of interest achievement." The truth is that Wall street does not altogether like it, and the announcement, so far from producing enthusiasm, actually had the reverse effect. It contributed largely to the bearish feeling that prevailed in the street today.

The experts insist that it is a favorable settlement, and that the market eventually will reflect the immense benefits to be derived from harmony in the northwest, but the speculative community has an ugly way of wanting to see, and there is a lot yet to be seen in this matter.

Prominent interests of the Northern Securities Company, the proprietary concern, met today and effected a temporary organization by electing as directors John S. Kennedy, D. Willis James, Samuel Thorne, James J. Hill, E. T. Nichols, George F. Baker, Robert Bacon, George F. Perkins, Daniel S. Lamont, E. H. Harriman, Jacob Schiff, James Stillman, W. P. Clough, George C. Clark and N. Terhune. While this was doing the directors of the Burlington were in session out in Chicago, and for some strange reason were unable to proceed with the business in hand. The meeting first was adjourned for two hours and then to another date, and no explanation was offered, except that there had been some sort of error in telephonic communication. The present Burlington directorate will meet again in a week, and it is intimated that the directors then to be elected are the same as listed previously, with the exception of James Stillman. Wall street did not seem to like the delay, for whatever reason it occurred. This is not to say that there has been the slightest hitch. Matters are moving smoothly enough, but the speculative community today was in a hypercritical mood.

Manufacturers Fair to Railroads.

The president of one of the largest independent steel rail producing companies said to your correspondent today that the agitation for higher prices begun several weeks ago by interests outside of the United States Steel Corporation had been abandoned for the time being, and he added that if any advance is to be made before the end of the year it would not become effective until all the railroads had placed their orders for 1902 delivery. This is understood to mean that the manufacturers have higher prices in view, but that their sense of fairness has restrained them from establishing a new schedule at this time. Such action would be an injustice to the railroads that have not yet placed their orders for 1902, and would put them at a disadvantage as compared with the companies that have.

In this compromise agreement of steel rail manufacturers the influence of the United States Steel Corporation is clearly apparent. The advocates of higher prices are understood to have constituted a majority of independent interests, and their representations in the matter were more or less positive; but the combine again sought above all else to promote confidence and good favor of consumers, and again its counsel prevailed.

Railroad Prosperity.

The gentleman previously referred to as president of one of the large independent companies takes this view of the present situation:

"The prosperity of the railroads is something enormous, and they are taking advantage of this to put a large percentage of their earnings into construction and betterments. In a word, they are taking advantage of this prosperity to fortify themselves against the inevitable period of adversity. The amount of construction work now under way is larger than ever before in our railroad history. Old-style bridges are being replaced by substantial structures, heavy rails are being substituted for lighter ones, large cars are being introduced, more powerful engines are in urgent demand, many companies are double-tracking their single lines, and permanent improvements are being carried forward on a large scale. All of the larger systems are bringing their property up to the highest degree of perfection as rapidly as they know how, and eventually, to be sure, this will be reflected in greater economy of operation. The natural result has been an enormous demand for steel rails, structural shapes and other forms of iron and steel, and I believe the prosperity of our trade is very substantial."

The Gates Faction Defied.

The latest contribution to the Colorado Fuel and Iron literature comes from the Osgood, or anti-Gates faction, and its evident design is to create the impression that the old American Steel and Wire crowd has not and cannot get control of Colorado Fuel and Iron and its property. It is well understood that the Osgood faction has been in a deal with the combine, and in setting forth its technical position it represents that if the United States Steel Corporation really wants Colorado Fuel and Iron, negotiations will have to be carried further than Mr. Gates and his associates.

A fortnight ago, when the Gates-Mitchell faction started the story of a deal, Wall street was given to understand that although the Gates party had not actual control of the stock, it would be able to get control next February by converting bonds to the amount of $10,000,000, as represented. The Osgood side of the story is that only $4,000,000 worth of the bonds were sold to shareholders, half of that amount going to the Gates-Mitchell faction, and that the remaining $6,000,000 was underwritten by Blair & Co., the New York and Chicago bankers. It is said, too, that Blair & Co. have had no authority to dispose of these bonds to the Gates or any other faction.

Precisely why this is true, the Osgood interests neglect to say; but they seem to be highly confident of their position, and insist that they will have to be consulted before control of Colorado Fuel and Iron can be acquired by the United States Steel Corporation or by anyone else. The idea of the Osgood faction seems to be to set as higher valuation on the property as was tentatively named by the Gates crowd.

Money and Speculation.

The youngest speculator in Wall street can remember the time when 6 per cent money was considered cheap in Wall street. Some great bull markets have been managed with call accommodations quoted at that figure, but here today the speculative community was plunged into bearish tantrums by the action of the banks in advancing their "cross-counter" rate of 5 per cent. This was done in anticipation of additional gold exports on Saturday. It is expected that about $2,000,000 will be shipped direct to London on the English steamer, sterling exchange rates having advanced today to within a fraction of the point at which such a transaction could be made at a profit. Banking interests are free to say that a higher range of interest rates is strongly indicated, and 6 per cent is mentioned as about the maximum; but they are not in the least apprehensive of a serious stringency. Indeed, bankers are glad enough to have money established on a higher level, since that means greater profit on their loan transactions in the market.

Unless banking experts are hopelessly wrong in their calculations, higher call money automatically will apply its own remedy. Six per cent money here in New York undoubtedly will induce a flow of funds from the interior hither in considerable quantity.

The bank statement Saturday may be more favorable than the bears anticipate, in spite of the exportation of, perhaps, as much as $6,000,000 in gold. The banks gained from the sub-treasury today nearly $1,000,000, and they have gained steadily in their transactions with the interior. Still another offset will be found in the funds restored to circulation through the resumption of business by the Seventh National bank.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

Gold values ranging from $7 to $43 are being taken near the entrance of the tunnel on the Golden King's property at Park City, Utah.

The report of the discovery of an immense body of sylvanite ore in the Abe Lincoln comes from Cripple Creek. This mine belongs to W. S. Stratton, former owner of Stratton's Independence, who reinvested a large portion of his profits from the sale of that mine in the district.

Work has been started on the construction of one of the most complete smelting and refining plants in the west at Salida, Col. It will be independent of the trust and will have a capacity of 1,200 tons a day.

One of the largest specimens of native silver ever found in Colorado came from the Molly Gibson at Aspen last week. It weighed 378 pounds and was valued at over $3,000.

Davenport, Wash., reports a rich strike in the Silver Seal, in Sedar canyon. The ore contains flakes and nuggets of pure silver and will assay into five figures.

A large cave, the main chamber of which is 50 feet long, 25 feet wide and high enough to stand in, has been discovered in the Midlothian mine, three miles north of Reno, Nev. The cave contains a heavy body of gypsum, beneath which ore giving good assays has been found.

Specimens taken from the Copper King at Tie Siding, Wyo., run as high as 90 per cent copper. The quantities of ore go 70 and 75 per cent. Some chunks of 90 per cent copper weighed from 100 to 200 pounds.

Wall Street Speculators Were Disappointed in Railroad Settlement.

BEARS MAKE A FIERCE RAID

Much Short Selling in Railroad Stocks Weakens the Market.

UNITED STATES STEEL IMMOBILE

The Statement of This Country's Foreign Trade Shows That We Have a Trade Balance in Our Favor of $64,228,601.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Professional speculators were much disappointed over the effect of last night's official announcement of the terms of the settlement of the railroad controversy in the northwest. That does not mean necessarily that the settlement does not insure all the benefits claimed for it. The speculators were bound to sell stocks upon definite announcement in any event. Their disappointment today was due to the fact that a very light outside demand for stocks was attracted by the announcement. The watchful bears were keenly alive to the situation, and when they saw the efforts making to realize profits they put out extensive short lines to take away the market from those seeking to liquidate, and then fiercely raided the market to dislodge stop-loss orders and enable them to take profits on the short side.

How large an element the short selling was in the weakness of the market was disclosed when the bears began to cover during the last hour. Substantial recoveries were made in all the active stocks and at some points among the coalers and the specialties there were complete recoveries. A notable fact in the day's trading was the comparative immobility of the United States Steel stocks. The transcontinental railroad stocks and some of the Vanderbilts, which have been under manipulation recently for advances, were most affected by the selling, although the list developed weakness throughout during the course of the day. The recent speculation has been largely based upon the Northern Pacific settlement and, with the details of that known, the professionals argue that all the good news was out, while the disquieting condition in the money market made it undesirable to hold stocks.

Some of the recent price levels taken in connection with the terms of the Northern Securities Company organization make it evident that those terms are a disappointment to the buyers at the prices indicated. There was a rather dubious feeling also as to how the transcontinentals not immediately concerned in the settlement are to benefit by it. The further development of the Burlington directors was made by the bears to play upon the fears of timid holders. The money market was firmer today, both for call and time loans, the latter showing the effect of the gold outgo for the first time. It is expected that further gold will be exported on Saturday, although the easier tendency of money in Paris and the reduction in the buying price of gold in London served to advance the level of exchange here at which gold exports are profitable.

The statement of the country's foreign trade published today throws some light on the present anomalies of the exchange situation. It is true that the total of October exports, although nearly $18,000,000 below that of last October, is the largest for any other previous October in the country's history, so that in spite of an increase of nearly $11,000,000 in imports over October of last year, the notable trade balance in our favor still remains of $64,228,601. But recent events show clearly that exchange bills were sold in the market long since in anticipation of the autumn supply of bills to be brought upon the market by our export trade and in process of borrowing foreign capital. This constitutes a short interest in the exchange market, and the fact that the October trade balance in our favor is $28,550,045 less than that of October last year may furnish an index of how far the banks were out in their calculations when they were selling exchange short.

The railroad bond market was weak in sympathy with stocks. Total sales par value $5,691,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Foreign Bourses.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—With the completion of the settlement the demand for money lessened today, though it was fairly active and not materially easier. The condition of the short loan market justified no change, and the Bank of England is quietly reducing supplies. Discounts were steady. There was a generally improved tone at the opening of business on the stock exchange, especially Kaffirs, owing to the optimistic reports regarding the war. Consols started quiet pending money developments later in the day. Americans opened quiet, regular and below parity. Afterward they were somewhat steadier, though transactions were limited. Later Americans were easier and very irregular. They closed at or near the lowest of them above the worst prices of the day. Argentines and Chinese were weak. Rio Tintos were firmer.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Business on the bourse today was busier in most departments and prices were firm. Foreigners, with the exception of Brazilians, were supported. Argentine receded on unfavorable crop advices. Metropolitans advanced on the report that the Thomson-Houston was weak. Rio Tintos were firmer in response to higher copper. Debeers rose substantially. The private rate of discount is unchanged at 2 15-16 per cent.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Locals were decidedly firmer on bear covering on the bourse today, owing to more encouraging reports from the manufacturing districts. Internationals were quiet and maintained. Northern Pacific preferred was weak on the report that the stock will be redeemed at par. Canadian Pacific were strong.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—There has been an increase in the home trade demand in dry goods department. A good business has been reported for export in the cotton goods. Prices are without change in any direction. Prints in moderate demand. Print cloths continue inactive at previous prices.

Wheat Was Very Active at Chicago Yesterday

COARSE GRAINS CLOSE HIGHER

Moderately Active Market

Airbrake, Window Glass and Pittsburgh Coal Led the Market and Closed Firm and Higher

AIRBRAKE UP TWO DOLLARS

It Was the Strongest Stock On the Local List and Closed Firm.

GOOD RALLY IN WINDOW GLASS

Fire Proofing Sells at the Lowest Price in Months, but Recovers Part of the Loss—Traction Was Higher.

For a time yesterday it looked as if the local stock market would be dominated by the course of events in the east. Pittsburgh maintains a large interest in Wall street, and the tone of the latter market naturally exerts an influence here. After the first session of the local board, however, the market here cut out a course for itself, and closed fairly steady to firm. Of the 25 securities dealt in, 10 showed net declines and six were unchanged. Westinghouse Airbrake was the strongest stock on the list, advancing to 173 at the last call and closing firm. This is a recovery of $6.50 a share since last Friday's break, and a net gain of $2 a share over the close on Wednesday. There was no good reason for the decline last week, and there was no news to account for the present rally, it being based upon a moderate investment demand.

American Window Glass common went through the usual erratic movements, selling down to 54½ in the morning and later recovering to 55¾ bid regular and 56 bid buyer's option 60 days. The preferred stock was firm at 90 bid. The only other member of this group which was mentioned was Pittsburgh Plate, which was offered at 167. A meeting of the various companies interested in the manufacture of window glass and plate glass will be held in Chicago next week, at which time an effort will be made to come to an agreement with the jobbers' association.

Pittsburgh Coal common was fairly active, 1,200 shares changing hands, but the buying was almost exclusively confined to the house which came to the support of the stock on the previous day. The preferred was unchanged at 92½. Only one small lot of River Coal changed hands, and that was at the old price, 13. There has been very little fluctuation in this stock for more than two weeks. National Fire Proofing was the weakest stock on the list. The common sold off to 30, the lowest price since last April, when a boom began in the market which carried the price up to 49. At the last call there was a recovery to 30¾ bid, and the stock closed firm. The meeting of the directors to take action on the dividend did not occur until after the market closed, when it was announced that the regular 1¾ per cent quarterly dividend had been declared, payable on the 20th inst. A few weeks ago there was some talk of an increase in the rate, but this was not taken seriously, as the general feeling is that holders of both common and preferred have been treated generously during the past few months.

The changes in the remainder of the usually active list were not important. Consolidated Traction preferred receipts were strong, advancing to 65¼, and the common sold at 23⅝. Pleasant Valley railway sold at 26½. There was no mention of Philadelphia Comany until the last call, when the common was quoted at 74⅜ bid and the preferred at 46½ bid. The bonds were ¼ per cent higher, selling at 112¾. Brewing and Ice shares were dull and nominally unchanged. In the bank list a small lot of Lincoln National sold at 130, an advance of 10 per cent over the last public transaction. A small lot of Allegheny Trust sold at 140 and more was offered at the same price. Exchange National sold at 83½, an advance.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Canned Goods.

There is no change of any kind to the local market, where tomatoes still rule at $1 35 for standards, ranging from that up to $1 75. It is said in eastern primary markets that much interest is being shown in seconds and offstandards, considerable buying of these grades having been done. Corn is in fair demand at unchanged prices, while succotash is quiet but firm. Jobbers are said to be fairly well supplied with squash and pumpkin for the moment, and the market is slower but steady. Apples are firm, the demand for them being active.

Dried Fruits.

The strong and advancing market for currants in the east is the feature in dried fruits last week, while Valencia layer raisins are reported as firm and higher for spot. Locally there is no change in the situation. Prices are steady, and the demand is showing steady growth for all descriptions. Evaporated raspberries are firm and high, but in slight request.

Evaporated apricots, in bags, 10½@11c; 25-lb boxes, 11½@12c; apples, in bulk, 9¼@c; 1-lb cartons, fancy, 11@11½c; choice, 10½@10¾c; 1-lb pkgs, 50-pkg cases, 11@11½c; Smyrna figs, 2 and 3-crown, 24-lb boxes, 7½@8¼c; per lb; seeded, 1-lb packages, 8@8½c; California prunes, 40@50s, 25-lb boxes, 2½@3c; currants, cleaned, 25 and 50-lb packages, 8½@9¼c; California prunes, 4½@7½c.

Fruits and Produce.

The feature yesterday was the accentuated strength of the potato market, where active inquiry brought prices up to a much higher level than has been occupied for a long time. Small lots on track went freely at 90 cents, while selling from store was five cents higher. Apples are firm, with fancy stock moving in a small way at unchanged prices. Trade in the same condition as last reported. Good to fancy bringing 15 to 17 cents, with offerings of inferior stock at 14 cents. Cauliflower is also in small supply and better holding enquiry, but does not seem to be a cauliflower season, as it has been neglected by consumers from the start. There are still some beans grown to produce offerings, but they are dragging along with not much call, and the crop will be cleaned up in about 10 days. Cool weather is helping the sale of celery, but lettuce still fails to draw much attention. Cranberries are active.

LONG DISPUTE NOW SETTLED

Differences Between City and Keeling & Ridge at Last Adjusted.

HIGHLAND RESERVOIR TO BE FINISHED

Original Specifications Will Be Followed, but Work Cannot Be Resumed Until Next Spring—Eight Months to Finish Work.

The long standing dispute over Highland reservoir No. 2 has been settled. Keeling & Ridge will complete the work. Director of Public Works Edward M. Bigelow made this announcement yesterday. William H. Graham, president of the Mercantile Trust Company, surety for the contractors, confirmed it. Work has been suspended since last summer pending the settlement of a disagreement between the contractors and the city over the specifications and the quality of materials being used.

Recorder Adam M. Brown in discussing the settlement said the first break came on the heels of the city's refusal to grant a concession to the contractors. Keeling & Ridge declared that they had effected an agreement with Former Director of Public Works George W. Wilson, altering the specifications and changing the amount and quality of material used. This agreement, they said, had been drawn up by City Attorney Clarence Burleigh.

"Director Bigelow demanded that the terms of the original contract be complied with," said Recorder Brown. "The firm declared that they would lose money if they did so and threatened to throw up the job. They did quit work. Director Bigelow notified them that he would hold them responsibe for any delay or loss. President Graham of the Mercantile Trust Comany, was out of the city at the time. When he returned he assured Director Bigelow and me that the contract with the city would be carried out and the original specifications would be adhered to. Keeling & Ridge then expressed their willingness to go ahead and finish the job."

Liable to Burst.

"Director Bigelow declared," added the recorder "that the basin would be endangered and was liable to burst if built of the kind of material being used when he went into office last June. When the firm asserted that they had permission to use this kind of material we investigated the matter. The city law department declared that no such contract had been entered into by the city. I am assured positively, however, that they did have it."

Director Bigelow said yesterday that when he resumed charge of the department of public works last June he found that practically no work had been done on the reservoir. He said there were only about ten or fifteen men at work. He intimated that the former director of the department was responsible for the state of affairs existing then.

The contract for Highland reservoir No. 2 was originally let to the firm of Jonathan Clark's Sons & Co. Director Bigelow said yesterday that the firm was not able to do the work and he took the job away from them. This was a year ago last June.

Given to a New Firm.

About seven months after Mr. Bigelow was seated the Mercantile Trust Company bondsmen of the Clark company employed Keeling & Ridge to complete the work.

The latter firm found that they could not make any money on the contract and asked for the concession from the city alleged to have been granted by Director Wilson and Solicitor Burleigh.

Recorder Brown said that it had been found that the contract had been let at too low a figure in the first place for the contractors to realize any profit. He said the trust company would prove the loser, as it was insufficiently secured by the first contractors.

Director Bigelow said yesterday that the trust company would likely lose about $100,000 on the contract unless they had bonds from the Clark company sufficient to cover that amount.

Director Bigelow said that work cannot be resumed on the reservoir until next spring and that it will require six or eight months after that period to complete it.

Recorder Brown said he had been assured at the rate the work was progressing last summer that the reservoir would not have been finished for several years. When Keeling & Ridge resume operations in the spring they will put a large force of men in order to finish the reservoir in the time expected.

TO HONOR GEN. TORRANCE.

Allegheny County Grand Army Association Will Tender Reception to Commander-in-Chief.

Gen. Eli Torrance, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, will visit Pittsburgh next Tuesday, and on the evening of that date will be tendered a reception and fraternal greeting, under the auspices of the Allegheny County Grand Army association.

The reception will be held in the hall of Abe Patterson Post No. 88, corner of South Diamond and East Diamond streets, Allegheny. Notices to that effect were sent out yesterday to the posts and comrades of the county by President H. H. Bengough.

Gen. Torrance was a resident of this section prior to the civil war, and served in the Ninth Pennsylvania Reserves, during the Rebellion. He was elected commander-in-chief at the National encampment held in Cleveland last September. He is a judge of one of the courts of Minneapolis and for many years has been a leader in the affairs of the Grand Army throughout the west. Maj. Levi G. McCauley of West Chester, commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, is expected to reach the city on Tuesday, and will join with the Allegheny veterans in welcoming the commander-in-chief.

Low Will See the President.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Mayor-elect Low announced today that he would go to Washington tomorrow at the invitation of President Roosevelt and remain over night. Mayor Van Wyck today sent his private secretary to Mr. Low to offer him any assistance that the present mayor can give as to the routine of the office Mr. Low is to assume January 1.

A great many colds originate in the throat. Before they go down on the Lungs, Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant will often effect a cure.

Here's a Pointer.

Take a postal card, address it to the Cranitonic Hair Food Co., 526 West Broadway, New York City, and write on the reverse side something like this: "Please send me a copy of the 48 page illustrated book entitled Hair Care and a sample of the Cranitonic Hair Food Products, which the Commercial Gazette says you are sending free and postpaid to people who ask for them." Sign your name, give your address, street and number and mail the card. Then wait a few days and you will receive by mail a sample of the most exquisite French toilet preparation ever offered to the public.

If you will write a letter, enclosing a small lock of hair or a sample of the daily combings of your hair, the Cranitonic will make a microscopical examination of the hair, send you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge. 111h

LAKE ERIE IS REORGANIZED

COMPLETE CHANGE IN OPERATING DEPARTMENT.

J. B. Yohe Remains General Superintendent, While Two Division Superintendents Are Appointed Under Him—By New Appointments, Room Is Made for Promotions All Along the Line—Old Employes Favored.

An entire reorganization of the operating department of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie takes effect today. The change puts the plan of the department in line with that now used by most railroad companies of importance. Heretofore the Lake Erie's scheme of operating offices has been unique. J. B. Yohe, general superintendent, retains that title. His office is now, in name as in fact, a general superintendency, as there are two superintendents appointed on the road. In charge of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie division, from this city to Youngstown, will be J. W. Riley, until now trainmaster of that division. G. B. Obey, until now chief dispatcher, will receive the title of division superintendent in charge of the Monongahela and Youghiogheny divisions. Both superintendents will have their headquarters in the general offices in this city, their quarters being on the first floor of the building. They will report to General Supt. Yohe.

In all matters regarding the distribution of freight equipment they will report, however, to C. L. Gist, general superintendent of transportation. Heretofore all these duties have devolved upon Mr. Yohe. The change adds a great deal more work to Mr. Gist's office.

F. S. Weigel, formerly train dispatcher on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie division, becomes chief dispatcher, reporting to the division superintendents. He will have entire supervision of the movements of trains. His promotion will leave a vacancy on one of the tricks, making room for an extra dispatcher.

F. E. Ramsdell, who came with the road only about a month ago, from the position of trainmaster of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, at Massillon, O., becomes trainmaster of the main line. His title, until this time, has been assistant trainmaster. C. T. Halbaugh, assistant trainmaster of the Youghiogheny and Monongahela divisions, also becomes trainmaster.

The new scheme greatly relieves the work of the general superintendent's office, allowing more attention to matters of general import, the routine duties being performed by the division superintendents. With the exception of Mr. Ramsdell all those receiving appointments are old Pittsburgh & Lake Erie men.

LOW RATE TO CHARLESTON.

Central Association Names One Fare Plus 10 Per Cent for Round Trip.

At a meeting of the Central Passenger association, in Chicago, many matters of importance were taken up. On the suggestion of the Southeastern Passenger association the rate of one fare, plus 10 per cent for the round trip was fixed for 15-day tickets from points distant over 350 miles to Charleston for the South Carolina, Interstate and West Indian exposition. A joint agency, similar to that established at Buffalo, will be set up in Charleston under the charge of Chairman Joseph Richardson, of the Southeastern association. A meeting of Central Passenger association rate clerks has been set for November 19 at Chicago, to compile the detailed rates for the exposition.

The association reaffirmed its October decision to abolish trip clergy permits for 1902. A protest from the trunk lines against issuing permits, for use in Central Passenger association territory, to clergy residing in trunk line territory, was heeded and no permits to ministers residing east of Pittsburgh, Salamanca and Buffalo will be issued by the Central Passenger association. All Pittsburgh clergy will be entitled, however, to the annual permits of the Central association. Those east of this city will secure their permits from the Trunk Line association.

For the convention of the United Mine Workers in Indianapolis, opening January 20, a rate of fare and one-third for the round trip was fixed. The same rate was granted the Illinois Coal Operators' convention, which meets with the workers in the same city, January 30. A like rate, from Ohio points, goes to the mine workers of that state for their Columbus convention opening January 14.

The Wabash matter was passed.

Two More Gould Rumors.

Two new Gould system rumors are in the air. One announces with great positiveness the old Philadelphia story that the Pennsylvania has within the past few days bought from the Wabash all its rights of every kind, so far as the line to Pittsburgh is concerned, and will now complete the road, as a relief to the Panhandle. The story is too old to be credited without further proof.

Another rumor connects George J. Gould with the plan of Senator Clark of Montana to build a line from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles. That line is now well under construction and is encountering, from the Southern Pacific and other Harriman interests, the bitterest opposition. In connection with the Rio Grande and other Gould roads a line from this city to the Pacific coast under one interest would be established. R. C. Kerens of St. Louis, vice president of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake, as the Clark road is called, is thought to be the Gould representative in the plan.

Florida Through Service Daily.

General Passenger Agent E. A. Ford announces that the success last year of the special Florida service of the Pennsylvania lines between this city and Jacksonville, has justified its continuance this winter, with even greater conveniences. Instead of two days a week, as last winter, there will be through cars daily except Sunday, beginning about January 6. The leaving time will be about 9 a. m., from the Union station, and the route will be the same as last year, Panhandle to Cincinnati, Queen & Crescent, Southern Plant system, and Florida East Coast railway, through Atlanta and Macon, to Jacksonvidlie and St. Augustine. The run to the latter city from Pittsburgh will be made in 36 hours, only one night being spent on the road. The Chicago special service to Florida will also be resumed.

B. & O. to Retain U. S. Express.

The report has gone abroad that the United States Express service on the Baltimore & Ohio system will be discontinued in favor of the Adams Express Company, as the result of the recent acquisition of the Baltimore & Ohio by the Pennsylvania, which uses the Adams service alone. It can be stated positively that such will not be the case. The contract under which the United States company operates on the Baltimore & Ohio has yet 16 years to run. It was dated in 1887 to run 30 years. The contract is a good one, allowing the railroad 40 per cent of the gross receipts of the express company on all business handled, exclusively on Baltimore & Ohio lines, and 40 per cent of the proportional receipts from business handled partly over other lines.

Police Force Reorganized.

The reorganization of the Baltimore & Ohio police force by C. S. Burr, who left the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh a month ago to accomplish this, has been effected. J. T. Koch has been located in this city with the title of captain of police and a force of about 10 men are working under him. Similar officials have been placed at Ithica, the largest and more important towns along the line of the system. C. J. King, who was here before the change, is now captain of the Cumberland, Md., forces.

RAILROAD NOTES.

W. H. Baumes has been appointed auditor of the Buffalo & Susquehanna.

W. E. Surrell, superintendent of hotels of the Baltimore & Ohio, was in the city yesterday on business.

The Baltimore & Ohio changes do not include important changes on the Ohio river road. The trains of that road, which is now owned by the Baltimore & Ohio, are to continue to connect with the Panhandle, at Wheeling.

The Central Passenger association has granted a rate of one fare for the round trip from Ohio points to the convention of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion at Cincinnati December 4.
